SEMENOFF, IN PLANE, FLEES AS PARTISANS SEIZE CHITA

Former Leader Escapes To Dauria; Temporary Assembly In Power

LOOK FOR COUPS

Vladivostok Government Bankrupt; New Regime Expected

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, October 23.—A wireless meassage from Chita states that the Partisans have occupied the city and a temporary assembly has taken over the full power. Luksa has been appointed Commander-in Chief. Ataman Semenoff escaped by aeroplane to Dauria. The Japanese military and diplomatic missions have remained. Their fate is uncertain.

Mr. Matsudaira, the chief of the Japanese Diplomatic Mission here, has been recalled to Tokio to take up an important position.

(China Press Correspondence)

Vladivostok, Oct. 19.—With the present provisional government devoid of funds and practically powerless, indications point to the establishing of a new government under the protection and direction of the Japanese military authorities. It is expected that the officials of the present regime will go to Chita. In the last few days many of the Bourgeoisie members of the government have resigned.

PEASANTS AWAKEN

Bolshevist doctrines are no longer fooling the peasant class of the Pri-Amur and they are now using only Japanese yen, thus dealing a death-blow to the present government. This means Japanese domination but the people are tired of Bolshevik misgovernment. Thus Japan virtually secures control of the port of Vladivostok.

Unscrupulous grafting by the officials now in power also presages a change. With the view to securing as much money as they can before the expected overturn, an excise tax of 50 percent of the appraised value has been levied on goods shipped through the port of Vladivostok, regardless of destination.

Merchants are warned against shipping goods to Vladivostok as the tax must be paid whether the goods are sold or not. Shippers who desire to reclaim goods must also pay the tax.

American Sailor From Warship Here Held For Murder

Homer M. Darke of the United States Navy, a ship's cook on the U.S.S. Elcano, is held by the United States authorities here to answer a charge of murder, having been turned over yesterday by naval officials to the American Court.

In the information that has been lodged against the defendant it is alleged that following a controversy with a Chinese cobbler at Hankow, Darke seized the Chinese and hurled him from the vessel into the river where he drowned.

Darke has been in custody aboard the vessel since the tragedy occurred. He was removed to the American jail here yesterday.

Standard Oil In Deal With French Capital In Control

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 21.—It is generally believed that the subsidiary branch in Paris of the Standard Oil Company, which is entitled the "Standard Franco-Americaine," in addition to placing Standard Oil products on the French market will devote considerable capital to the exploitation of petroleum strata in France and the French Colonies in order that France may have a national supply, which would be invaluable in war time.

The importance of the combine is accentuated by the fact that the Standard Oil Company has for the first time undertaken an enterprise the control of which is left to non-American capital.

'Lights Out' In The Trenches

Chinese Police Put Dimmer On North Side Bars

To Enforce Midnight Closing

Score one more resounding fall for the well-known shades of night, discovered by Mr. Longfellow some time since.

This time the gloom of evening has fallen right smack onto one of the city's last strongholds of artificial sunshine, driving in the outposts and leaving a thick murk of glumness obstructing those erstwhile luminous by-ways where once the agile brickbat and the enthusiastic sailor were wont to disport and where the jazz fiddle and the incandescent bulb joined forces against Old John W. Morpheus and chased him shrieking into the arms of rescuing Dawn.

DIMMER IS SWITCHED ON

The Trenches have been dimmed. Henceforth, when the hour hand of the clock begins its nocturnal descent it means "lights out" and a drying up of the wellsprings in the borderland cases along the North Szechuen and Jukong Roads.

This by order of the Woosung-Shanghai Constabulary, who have jurisdiction in the district. A notification to this effect has just been issued by the Chief of the Constabulary, Mr. Hsu Kuo-liang, who states in the notice that previous regulations have been disregarded and that violations of the present orders will result in fines or the revocation of licenses.

The orders state that no more wine shops or bar rooms shall be opened on the Chinese territory line, that all such places in Chinese territory must close at 12 midnight and that there shall be no dancing, loud singing, "Addresses," or drunkenness permitted on the premises. Free access is to be given to the constabulary and the regulations may be amplified by filing a petition with the local Defense Commissioner, who has already sanctioned the new order.

REPORTER FINDS LOCALITY

A reporter sent out to consider the efficacy of the new order, found the locality after some inquiry, shortly after the midnight hour. In front of a barred door he heard a uniformed Chinese in oration to a large assemblage of irate and arid gentlemen.

With a sad monotony he declaimed: "No can do!"

Other relays of gentlemen arrived from time to time, but between these arrivals the dulcet notes of a Chinese fiddle, the soft impeachments of a pair of estranged cats and the subdued sounds associated with a game of native dominoes lulled the reporter to a reassurance that a holy calm had indeed descended upon the locality.

POLES DISCLAIM ANY SANCTION OF TAKING VILNA BY GENERAL

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 24.—The Excelsior publishes the following declaration by M. Szimon Askenazi, the Polish delegate to the League of Nations, on the subject of the Vilna incident:

"It is evident that the decision of the League of Nations on September 20, which was accepted at that time by the sole Polish plenipotentiary, M. Paderewski, must be binding on the Polish Government. This is the line the Polish Government, has taken, as is borne out by its reprobation of the action of General Zeligovski, who no longer belongs to the Polish Army. They are not Poles who have entered Vilna; they are Lithuanians, inhabitants of Central Lithuania, who have made war on the Bolsheviks."

SITUATION WORSE

London, Oct. 24.—The Lithuanian situation is growing progressively worse. The Poles are not content with occupying Vilna and are now apparently extending their annexation to Kovno.

In spite of official disapproval the so-called Zeligovski Corps is pushing on towards Kovno.

There is reason to fear that the Poles are preparing to establish a Polish Government at Kovno, which would immediately declare a union with Poland.

The Poles command an overwhelmingly superiority of forces and are pushing forward with tanks, aircraft and guns.

500 KILLED IN WRECK OF SIBERIA RAILWAY TRAIN

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, October 23.—Over 500 persons were killed and injured, many of them being burned, in the collision between the Vladivostok and Harbin trains near Pogranitchnaya on Thursday. The collision was caused through the driver of the Vladivostok train being intoxicated.

Thousands Freed From Prisons By French President

(Reuter's Service)

Cox Denounces Lodge As Arch Conspirator Of Age

(Reuter's Service)

New York, October 21.—The Presidential election campaign is assuming an acrimonious character. Governor Cox, in the course of a speech at Boston, denounced Senator Harding and Senator Lodge for their opposition to the League of Nations, and described Senator Lodge as "the arch-conspirator of the age." He declared that Senator Harding was deliberately attempting to deceive the people on the League issue.

Mr. Elihu Root (President of the American Society of International Law) in the course of his address on the League of Nations in the Carnegie Hall, declared that Article Ten of the League Covenant meant a throwback to "old and discredited alliances."

SEES NEED OF LEAGUE

In his opinion the large majority of American people earnestly desired an organisation of civilised nations which would co-operate to prevent future wars, and that the United States should do her full share in this work.

Buffalo, October 24.—Senator Harding, in the course of a speech here, charged the Democratic Party with attempting to blind the voters to domestic issues by devoting their campaign to an already rejected foreign program. He said that the nation should first put its house in order.

Senator Harding said that there was no difference between him and Governor Cox in their realisation that the people desired some kind of association of nations to prevent war and to interweave all peoples with bonds of peaceful co-operation.

He declared that the differences were that Governor Cox was insisting on the adoption, unchanged, of parts of the League of Nations Covenant and that the position of the Republican Party was the direct opposite.

HARDING IN CHALLENGE

Rochester, New York, October 24.—Senator Harding, speaking here today, challenged the Democrats to show by his public utterances where he had changed position on the League of Nations since he had always favored the establishment of an association of the nations but could not at present frame a definite plan.

New York, October 24.—Senator Hiram Johnson, in the course of a speech here, said that he would be delighted to see an international forum established, which would be open for full discussion of international affairs and would form public opinion so as to prevent war.

New York, October 24.—Mr. Will Hays, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, stated today that Democrats say that many normally Democratic States have given up hope and are now busy trading Governor Cox to try to save their Senators.

He predicted that Senator Harding would have a majority in every State west of the Mississippi with the exception of Texas, Arkansas

Constitutionalists Say Terms Will Not Be Binding On Southwest

Tsen And Lu Not In Position To Discuss Negotiations, Says Message

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Shanghai, October 24.—The following translation of a statement, signed by the Constitutionalist leaders, has been handed to Reuter's Agency for publication:

"During the course of the last two months, when the Cantonese troops have been marching back to Canton, out of the ninety odd districts of the Province, over 80 have been recovered by the Cantonese or have responded to their call. Even in the Provincial Capital itself, the important forts commanding the two channels of the Pearl River, the populous and wealthy suburb of Sai Kwan, the island of Honam, and the entire Provincial fleet of gunboats are in the hands of the Cantonese.

GENERAL WU AT BAY

"Gen. Mu Yung-hsin is pent up and at bay in the old city of Canton.

"Mr. Tsen Chun-hsuan and Gen. Lu Yung-ting, at the end of their power and resources, have sent deputies, one after the other, post-haste to Peking to beg on their knees for the Peking Government immediately to sign articles of peace in the hope that, before the last vestige of their power in Canton disappears, they may receive present or future assistance from Peking.

"Looking at the facts, it is obvious that Mr. Tsen and Gen. Lu are not only not in a position to speak on behalf of the Southwest, but that even nine-tenths of the Province of Kwangtung are beyond their control; while legally, there is no Military Government in existence in Canton, with the absence of four out of seven Administrative Directors.

SIGNED AS INDIVIDUALS

"Hence any articles signed by Mr. Tsen and Gen. Lu are signed in their private capacity, and have so little value that they are not worth the paper they are written on.

"If the Peking Government lightly and unguardedly affix its signature, it will find these articles to be

SUFFRAGISTS IN JAPAN DEMAND BETTER STATUS

Thousands of Women Present At Mass Meeting Held By Osaka Paper

SAY MEN ARE FAVORED

Equal Rights For Fair Sex Is Object Of Rapidly Spreading Campaign

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Osaka, Oct. 25.—Thousands of women representatives gathered at the Central Public Hall today, where, the auspices of the Asahi, a women's mass meeting was held for the purpose of considering "women's problems" and the advancing of the social status of women.

The present meeting is the second of its kind to be held in Japan, the first being held last November.

Representatives of the local Women's Societies throughout Japan are taking part in today's convention.

EDUCATORS ATTEND

The program included a committee meeting this morning and the mass meeting opened at noon.

A lady member of the editorial staff of the Asahi presided and the speakers included representatives from the provincial societies as well as professors from various colleges.

The meeting will close with selections of foreign music.

The awakening of Japanese women has recently been increasingly noticeable and the Osaka newspapers are devoting a considerable portion of their columns to women's interests.

SOCIETY IS LAME

The papers believe that the Spartan deeds of women in the days of fedualism no longer inspire the young women of present-day Japan, whose aspirations now appear to be directed towards the accomplishment of enlightened individual life and social reconstruction.

Commenting on today's Convention the Asahi says:

"Present-day society is constituted for the convenience of the men folks and is therefore lame. The work of social reconstruction should not be left in the hands of the men alone. The women must take their part."

Merchants Send $60,000 To Aid Famine Sufferers; Tea Dance At Astor Today

Shanghai Shopkeepers Vote Money For Six Provinces; American Woman's Club Affair This Afternoon; New World Benefit Sunday

The sum of $60,000, to be divided equally among the six famine-stricken districts—Shantung, Chihli, Honan, Shansi Shensi and Chekiang, will be sent immediately to the localities by the Chinese Merchants Famine Relief Association, it was decided at a meeting of the organisation's committee held yesterday afternoon. Plans were completed for the three-day benefit to be held at the New World beginning on November 1 and it was announced that 5,000 tickets have been sold.

This afternoon at the Astor House the American Woman's Club is to hold a tea dance to raise funds for famine relief. Dancing will start at four o'clock and tea is to be served. The Astor House is giving the Club the use of the ball room without charge and as tickets are to sold at two dollars, it is anticipated that a sizeable sum will be realised.

FETE AT NEW WORLD

The three-day fete to be held under the auspices of the Chinese Merchants' Famine Relief Association at the New World will be unique in that the artists appearing include well known local officials, stage stars, Chinese girls from St. Mary's Hall, McTyeire School and the Y.W.C.A. School of Physical Education and members of the Chin Woo Athletic Association. Three leading Chinese amateur dramatic associations are to assist and Magistrate Kwan of the Mixed Court will give an exhibition of sleight-of-hand. Moving pictures will be screened by the Commercial Press, the films starring the famous female impersontor of Peking, Mei Lan-fang.

An additional feature is to be provided by local sing-song girls who are to act as waitresses each evening at dinner.

Boy Scouts have volunteered for duty at the amusement places.

AD MEN OFFER AID

If the plans of the Shanghai Advertising club are carried out Shanghai will soon be the theater of a famine relief campaign that will result in sending a stream of money and supplies into the famine stricken areas to the north.

The Ad club yesterday addressed a letter to the general committee of the Chinese and foreign famine relief organisation, offering to help in the relief work that is now being organised and to devote the united effort of the entire membership to that task. The famine relief committee immediately accepted the offer of the Ad men. The Ad club letter suggested a systematic campaign, with plenty of publicity and a regular system of canvassing. This also was heartily agreed to.

It was announced by the publicity committee at yesterday's meeting of the relief organisation, which was held at the headquarters in the former German club, that posters are being prepared for the drive that has been launched for relief funds here.

NEW COMMITTEE NAMED

At the general committee meeting last evening it was decided to appoint a special distributing committee, to pass upon the various appeals for relief that reach the Shanghai organisation from various sections of the famine stricken district. This step was taken as a preliminary move in the work of getting the Shanghai relief work to operating on a practical basis, and as a means of making sure of accom-

RAILWAY STRIKE AVERTED WHEN PREMIER CONSENTS TO RESUME MINE PARLEY

Drastic Emergency Bill Proposed To Prevent Strikers From Interfering With Production Of Necessities Of Life

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 23, 11:10 a.m.—The Emergency Bill, introduced into the House of Commons yesterday, provides for the issue of proclamations of emergency whenever the action of any body or bodies of persons threatens to interfere with the supply or distribution of food, water, fuel, light or the means of locomotion.

Should Parliament not be sitting when such an emergency arises, it will be summoned immediately, and emergency regulations will be made by Order-in-Council for the preservation of peace, and for the maintenance of means of transit.

Punishment will be provided for any breach of these regulations.

BANKERS' GUILD IN U.S. AGAINST RESERVE SYSTEM

Excessive Rates Of Interest Revealed By Comptroller Are Condemned

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, October 23.—The American Bankers' Association has issued a statement condemning certain "unnamed individuals" as the result of the charge made by Mr. John S. Williams, Comptroller of Currency, that certain bankers are charging high interest on loans.

The Association further expresses disapproval of the federal reserve system and condemned any effort to use the Government's forces and funds to influence prices.

The Association favors "cautious admittance of immigrants" in order to safeguard the public welfare.

Shipbuilding Being Promoted In States

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Shipping Board has approved the construction of 31 vessels under the Merchant Marine provision, exempting ship-owners from the payment of excess profits tax, if an equal amount was devoted to shipbuilding.

M. Lion Says French Loan Is Investor's Opportunity

An unexampled opportunity for the shrewd investor is afforded by the latest French loan, subscriptions for which have just been opened. This is the belief voiced yesterday by Mr. G. Lion, who as Manager of the Banque Industrielle de Chine has been the moving spirit in the growth in Shanghai of that financial institution and who shortly is leaving to assume a more important position with the parent bank in Paris.

Mr. Lion emphasised that the current rate of exchange for the French franc made the present offering of the French Government particularly acceptable in view of the speed with which the work of post-war reconstruction is proceeding in France.

SEES GOOD PROFITS

He ventured the opinion that the investor in French securities of the kind being offered in the new loan could not fail to profit hugely in coming years and added that this is fully realised in China, for, he said, that the Banque Industrielle already had received a considerable number of subscriptions for the new loan and others are coming in daily.

Mr. Lion pointed out that reconstruction in France is being carried out with the greatest energy and he said that much impetus to this work will be given when supplies of coal that Germany must give under terms of the peace treaty are given.

POINCAIRE'S VIEWS

(French Wireless Service)

Paris, October October 24.—In an article in the Matin today, ex-President Raymond Poincare, enumenating the securities, which France offers for the new loan says: "This rich earth, one of the most fertile in the world, made still more fertile by the tenacious labor of the French peasantry; this sub-soil, enclosing such great riches, which, thanks to the deliverance of Alsace and Lorraine, will enable us to advance our production of iron-ore to a quarter of the world's production; these waterfalls, which will soon be controlled in our magnificent mountain ranges and will procure for us 8,000,000 horse power and will furnish us with the means of replacing little by little with "white coal" a part of the consumption of pit coal: this vast colonial empire, the boundaries of which have just been extended by victory, which assures us phosphates, petroleum, timber, food stuffs, an infinite variety of produces and which at the same time opens immense outlets to French manufactured goods: and above all the spirit of our race, our habits of work and thrift, that sum total of domestic virtues and family traditions which has made France and which will maintain her, such are the securities of the new loan."

Coal Workers Urge Union Men To Refrain From Action That Might Be Prejudical To Negotiations Promised

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 23, 5:25 p.m.—The Railwaymen's strike has been postponed.

The Executives of the Miners' Federation and the Railwaymen's Union conferred today. The former, in thanking the Railwaymen for their sympathetic strike, stated that Mr. Lloyd George had invited the Miners' Executive to a fresh conference, and that this invitation had been accepted. Therefore the Miners' Executive requested the railwaymen to suspend their strike in order not to prejudice the new negotiations.

INDEFINATELY POSTPONED

The Miners' representatives meet the Government tomorrow morning, and the Railwaymen's strike is therefore postponed indefinitely.

The news of the postponement of the Railwaymen's strike has been received with intense relief and satisfaction by the general public, and by Labor circles, and particularly by the railwaymen themselves.

London, October 23.—This morning's outlook in the industrial situation may be summed up in the words of Mr. Lloyd George yesterday to a deputation on the temperance question. The Premier declared that peace might be brought about within a few hours but that on the other hand the situation might develop into one of the greatest struggles the country had ever experienced.

THOMAS AGAINST STRIKE

The miners' representatives late last night were distinctly hopeful that the week-end would see a great improvement. The Government's condition that an advance of wages must depend on increased output still holds and the miners realise the fact that adequate guarantees are required.

There is a strong feeling that a railway stoppage would not be responded to by more than 50 percent of the railwaymen. Mr. Thomas has definitely stated that he would be opposed to a railway strike and the general opinion is that he would resign his leadership if such a strike occurred.

HEAVY WAGE LOSS

Meanwhile the miners' wages lost through the strike amount to £3,500,000 and the coal lost to 3,750,000 tons.

London, October 23.—The Daily Express learns that a determined attempt to postpone the strike notices has been decided upon. The railwaymen's leader, Mr. J. H. Thomas, M. P., has refused to sign the strike notices.

London, October 22, 4:40 p.m.—The railwaymen's conference has invited the executive of the Miners' Federation to meet them at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The miners' executive has been called to London to meet to consider the railwaymen's invitation and the general situation. Great significance is attached to this summons, as it is regarded as the first real move towards ending the deadlock, for it is the first meeting of the miners' executive since the strike was declared.

Accordingly it is considered that there is a strong possibility of negotiations between the miners and the Government and mine-owners being resumed before the fatal Sunday midnight (when the railwaymen threaten to strike unless negotiations have been opened).

BREAK IN RANKS

Tomorrow (Saturday) and Sunday will therefore be crucial periods.

It is noteworthy that the powerful Associated Society of Enginemen and Firemen, the membership of which amounts to over 70,000, has not yet come to a decision to join the railwaymen's strike if it eventuates and has deferred consideration of sympathetic action until Monday.

London, October 22, 10:20 p.m.—There are indications that the railwaymen's executive blundered badly when it decided to strike on Sunday at midnight, unless the mining trouble had been solved.

Incidentally, Mr. J. H. Thomas, the railwaymen's leader, has authorised the statement that he is personally opposed to the decision of the railwaymen's executive.

Influences are evidently at work at least to secure a suspension of the railwaymen's threatened measure. It is understood that the miners at tomorrow's joint conference with the railwaymen will suggest a postponement of the latter's decision to strike until after a special meeting of the Trade Union Congress, which the Parliamentary Committee of the Trade Union Congress decided today after long deliberation to convene on the 27th instant.

EXECUTIVES IN CONFERENCE

The executives of all unions affiliated to the Congress have been summoned to this conference, the object of which is carefully stated in non-committal language as follows, "to consider how best to give such help to the miners as will insure the success of their efforts for a settlement of the dispute."

The Trade Union Congress Parliamentary Committee has at the same time expressed the desire that no separate body shall take action which might tend to defeat unity of effort.

The foregoing moves were evidently determined as the result of impressions that the informal conversations of today, which are continuing tomorrow, between ministers and miners' leaders with a view to arriving at a basis for a conference of mine-owners and miners with the Government, are likely to bear good fruit.

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK

London, October 24, 3:00 a.m.—The new week opens with a distinctly more hopeful outlook in the industrial situation.

Mr. Lloyd George, who remained in town for the week-end, is meeting the miners' leaders this morning. The meeting is in the nature of a preliminary talk with Messrs. Smillie, Hodges, Herbert Smith, and Robson, respectively the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary of the Miners' Federation, in order if possible to reach a basis of discussion and settlement.

If such a basis is reached, the Miners' Executive will meet the Government later in formal negotiations, which are likely to last the greater part of the week.

Peace will therefore be in the balance for some days and the resumption of work might even be delayed by the necessity for a third ballot. The subject matter of today's conversations, in spite of widespread rumors, is being kept a close secret.

The miners' leaders, Messrs. Smillie, Smith, Hodges and Haltshorn, conferred for two hours with Mr. Lloyd George at 10 Downing Street this morning. After the conference Mr. Hodges stated that discussions were to be continued.

Gary Predicts An Early Recovery For War Torn Countries

(Reuter's Wireless Service)

Paris, October 23.—According to advices from New York, Mr. E. H. Gary, Chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, who has just returned to America from a visit to France and Belgium, prophesies a surprisingly speedy recovery from the ravages of war for these two countries.

Mr. Gary is reported to have stated, in the course of a speech, that the general outlook in the United States and abroad was particularly encouraging.

New York, October 22.—Business prospects for the United States abroad are unusually bright, Mr. E. H. Gary, Chairman of the United States Steel Corporation told the Iron and Steel Institute today. "The business skies," he said, "are practically cloudless and there is nothing in the atmosphere that indicates the approach of dangerous storms. If serious reaction and depression comes, it is probable that it will be the fault of those, connected with business operations, or others, who by reason of official positions improperly interfere, and not because of fundamental deficiencies in our resources and opportunities. Prices have been outrageously high and the tendency towards a lower, reasonable and fairer relative basis to the general public will bring about a fair and reasonable adjustment."

Prepare For League Meeting At Geneva

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 23.—The Secretariat General of the League of Nations, comprising 200 persons, will leave London on October 27 for Geneva.

The Japanese delegation will reach Geneva on October 28. It will consist of three envoys and 30 secretaries. Three Japanese officers, members of the permanent Military Commission of the League, are expected at the same time.

Peking, October 24.—Dr. Hawkling Yen is taking part in the formation of an international secretariat of the League of Nations in London.

"We, the undersigned, while firm in our object of upholding the Constitution and saving the country from foreign commitments, are none the less anxious for the restoration of peace.

"If the North is indeed sincere in the desire for peace and is not striving for merely a unification of the country on paper, there is no necessity for it to sign clandestinely articles and conditions with irresponsible persons, but let it present—as we have before now declared—all questions to the peace conference at Shanghai for open discussion and equitable solution.

PEACE TERMS ISSUED

Peking, October 24.—It is stated on semi-official authority that Tang Chi-yao and Liu Hsien-shih have jointly telegraphed to the Government, suggesting peace on the following lines:

(1) The reassembling of the constitution drafting committee, and also of the constitutional convention abolished in 1917;

(2) The expression of the will of the people regarding the fate of the old and new Parliaments;

(3) The Government to contribute $400,000 annually each to Yunnan and Kweichow Provinces;

(4) The conduct of negotiations through delegates.

It is added that Yunnan and Kweichow should be governed by measures adopted in Peking regarding the reorganisation and the disbandment of troops after the declaration of unification.

Peking, October 24.—It is reported that Kao Tung and five other members of the Old Parliament who had not left Chungking prior to the arrival of the Szechuanese, have been arrested and will be brought to trial.

TROOPS LOOT TAMSHUI

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Oct. 25.—It is reported from Tamshui that about 10,000 Kwangsi troops passed through the town, at which they remained for the night of October 20.

They pillaged the town and, although four robbers were caught and shot, this drastic punishment did not deter the pillagers, who an hour afterwards recommenced looting.

The Kwangsi troops hurried off towards Shekiung at dawn, pursued by General Chen Chiung-ming's followers.

At the request of the General commanding these troops, the priest in charge gave up the Roman Catholic Church for use as a Red Cross hospital for the treatment of sick Kwangsi troops under a French-speaking Chinese surgeon. While the Italian priest and the surgeon were haranguing a mob of soldiers against looting, the latter levelled their rifles at the two men but did not fire.

CHEN ENTERS WAICHOW

On the following day General Chen Chiung-ming's troops entered Tamsui and were received with rejoicing by the inhabitants. The commander issued a proclamation with respect to the enemy's sick, who were subsequently treated side by side with General Chen Chiung-ming's men.

It is reported that General Chen Chiung-ming's soldiers entered Waichow on the morning of October 23 amid the rejoicings of the inhabitants.

Sunday School Delegates Are Told That Nation Is Often Misunderstood

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Osaka, October 24.—Last night the City of Osaka gave a banquet in honor of the Sunday School delegates in the Public Hall, which was lavishly decorated.

Governor Ikematsu of the Osaka Prefecture congratulated the delegates on the success of "the greatest international gathering hitherto held in Japan." He declared that Japan was a peace-loving nation, though she was often misunderstood. He hoped that the delegates would bear witness to the life of the people of Japan, who had the same love of peace and the same ideals as the people of the lands from which the delegates had come.

Governor Ikematsu said that the Japanese were anxious to join in international co-operation for the building of a better world and asked the delegates to carry this message back with them to their home countries.

JAPAN TROOPS IN FIGHT WITH KOREAN FORCE

Nipponese Burn School When Officials Disobey Order To Close Doors

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Seoul, October 24.—A Japanese detachment has routed and is pursuing 400 outlaws at Toutaokou. The Japanese force had 14 killed and 9 wounded. The enemy left 16 dead on the field and his other casualties are thought to have been heavy. Another Japanese detachment is engaging the bandits at Paomikon.

Tokio, October 24.—The Asahi states that the Mintung School, Chientao, "a hotbed of malcontent Koreans," refused to obey the order of the Chinese authorities to close down and a Japanese detachment burned the school, confiscating large quantities of arms, ammunition and documents. The inmates of the school fled.

Tokio, October 24.—The Government is contemplating a measure, giving qualified Koreans responsible posts in the Korean Administration and also other posts, such as Consulships in Manchuria, Mongolia, etc. with a view to improving relations between Korea and Japan.

City Of Nanking Plans Auditorium And Improvements

Nanking, October 24.—According to report from Prof. Wang Peh-chin, dean of Provincial Law College and chairman of Nanking Civic Club, there will be a public auditorium, with seating capacity of 2,000, at Chao Tien-kong near Han-si-meng. The money for the erection of the auditorium, some $3,000, has been given by the civil governor, Mr. Chi Shao-ling. The foundation of the auditorium has already been laid, and it is expected that the new building will be completed at the end of the year.

Besides the erection of the auditorium, it is also understood that Nanking will soon have new and wide roads near Kuleo. As suggested by Prof. Wang, the Drum Tower will be used as a public park in the future.

Another plan announced the reconstruction of Heo-wu, a lake outside Jing-Chiah-meng. Plans have been made to build a road connecting the Tai-bing-meng and Jing-Chiah-meng. At the request of Prof. Wang, the Government Teachers College and Chinan Institute have jointly subscribed $600 to open a day school for the poor children at Heo-wu where the populace is estimated to be over 500. That school will begin next year.

Kato Leads Move To Oust Present Cabinet At Tokio

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, October 24.—Viscount Kato, the Kenseikai leader, in the course of a speech here today proposed that the party should work for a change in the Cabinet.

Hiroshima, October 25.—The Kenseikai have held a convention here, attended by Viscount Kato, the leader of the party. The speakers censured the various policies of the Government and demanded its immediate resignation.

Viscount Kato has lately been making a speech-making tour through southern Japan. At one meeting a member of the party asked him why he had not spoken in the House of Peers while it was in session.

Viscount Kato is reported to have replied that to do so would have been useless, because no satisfactory answers would have been elicited from the members of the present Cabinet.

WOOL versus OAK

Oak Flooring costs just about the same as a High-class Carpet.

A carpet, no matter how good the quality may be, wears out in a few years—an oak floor will last a life-time and longer. A well polished oak floor is infinitely superior in appearance to an ordinary carpet. Oak flooring is hygienic; it does not harbour dust and germs as does a carpet. Oak flooring costs from Tls. 25 to Tls. 40 per fong (100 sq. feet), according to the design selected.

WE SUPPLY

OAK FOR FLOORING, WAINSCOTING, PANELLING, ETC.

KILN-DRIED AND OF PRIME QUALITY

We give all orders personal attention. After you have placed your order with us, the flooring will be laid and all work carried out under the personal supervision of a foreign expert of the Company. This supervision costs you nothing and we prefer to do this for you.

Insist that all lumber for flooring and panelling for interior work bears the "Three Pines" Trade Mark, and the letters "KD" signifying kiln-dried, thus ensuring its perfect quality, and suitability for the severe climatic conditions of China.

Japanese Censured By Chinese Populace For Troops At Hungchun

Peoples' Union At Peking Addresses Notes To Obata And Yen In Criticism Of Invasion Of Territory

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, October 23.—The National Headquarters of the Peoples' Union at Peking has addressed two telegrams to the Japanese Minister and the Minister of Foreign Affairs respectively to the following effect.

(1) To Mr. Obata.

"That the Hungchun incident was initiated by Koreans receives recognition in your government gazette. Although it took place in our territory, Chinese bandits did not inflict damage upon the Japanese. Your Government, instead of holding your subjects in check, boldly advanced troops to our territory to suppress bandits and demanded permanent quarters at Pukuko, Chiatze and Tungkow. Do you intend to repeat the story of Chenchiatung? You are hereby requested to advise your government to withdraw the forces from Hungchun and Yenchi within three days and offer apology to China. Otherwise we will take the last step to deal with you. We warn you that justice is not to be ignored and China insulted."

CHINESE INDIGNANT

(2) To Dr. W. W. Yen.

"We are highly indignant to learn of the despatch of large Japanese forces to our territory under the mere pretext of the Hungchun affair. We are of the opinion that all the demands except that for compensation presented by Japan should be rejected. As it is our sovereign right to protect foreign residents and quell local bandits, the Japanese troops that intrude into our territory should be expelled. We hope that you will be convinced of this fact and make the following representations to Japan.

FIVE DEMANDS MADE

(1) That the Military Pact should be immediately cancelled.

(2) That China alone should be responsible for policing the Chinese Eastern Railway before the formation of a legal Russian Government.

(3) That the Japanese guards on the South Manchuria Railway should not interfere with civil administration and take other military operation.

(4) That the Japanese troops withdrawn from Siberia should be transported by specified routes and should not linger in Chinese territory.

NATION RESPONSIBLE

(5) That China should be responsible for protecting the Japanese and Koreans resident in Manchuria and that Japan should not freely send troops there under the excuse of protecting her people.

Advices from Chinese in Tokio state that in view of the disapproval of China concerning the despatch of Japanese troops to Hungchun and for fear of the public opinion of Allied nations, the Japanese Government has instructed the Japanese Ministers abroad to explain to the various governments the reason of her action, and to send abroad the news of China's approval of the joint despatch. Japan will tell the United States that her action was necessitated by self-protection in the same way that America dealt with Mexico.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 25.—The Hungchun incident appears to be growing in importance. Conflict of opinion still exists as to what Mr. Obata said to Dr. Yen on the 9th inst., and Dr. Yen's replies.

According to Chinese reports, Mr. Obata stated that the Japanese troops would be withdrawn from Hungchun as soon as peace and order had been restored, while according to Japanese reports, Dr. Yen, learning that two companies of Japanese troops had reached Hungchun prior to Mr. Obata's request for permission to despatch them, did not object to the sending of a further six battalions.

NOTE TO JAPANESE

The Waichiaopu, on October 11, in a note to the Japanese Legation, protested against the despatch of further troops to Hungchun. The Japanese Foreign Office refers to this Note as a change of policy on the part of the Chinese Government, whereas Waichiaopu affirms it merely confirmation of what Dr. Yen stated to Mr. Obata.

Mr. Obata's reply, dated the 12th, said that the Japanese troops would be withdrawn as soon as peace and order in that locality had been restored "to such an extent that the menace to the safety of the Japanese residents and the tranquility of the frontier districts, as well as the source of trouble, had been overcome."

He added that it must be made clear that despatch of Japanese troops was due to the seriousness of the Hungchun incident and general conditions of unrest in the Chientao district, and that the Japanese Government could not alter their decision regarding the despatch of troops until they saw that the purpose for which the troops were despatched had been attained.

MISUNDERSTANDING EXISTS

Thus it is clear that a misunderstanding exists regarding both Mr. Obata's and Dr. Yen's verbal statements. The Waichiaopu's note was emphatic in withholding any expression of approval of the despatch of Japanese troops. This the Japanese do not dispute, but they assert that it does not agree with Dr. Yen's verbal statement.

Mr. Obata's reply qualifies his verbal statement concerning the withdrawal, adding conditions in regard to the frontier, as a source of trouble which place the object of the expedition on an entirely different footing, and reveal as the Japanese purpose the complete suppression of the Korean malcontents, which might occupy an indefinite period.

As far as the bandits are concerned, the Chinese do not apprehend any further trouble there, as there are sufficient Chinese troops concentrated to overawe the outlaws. The Chinese think that the Japanese are going far beyond their rights in maintaining a force in Chinese territory to deal with their own subjects, and that, as the presence of the Japanese troops is now entirely unjustified, these should be withdrawn immediately.

China Law Applied To Russ Residents In Heilungkiang

Ministry Revises Code To Govern Nationals Of Non-treaty Powers

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, October 21.—Gen. Sun Lieh-chen, Tuchun of Heilungkiang, has wired to Peking stating that several Russian residents who committed offenses were sentenced to imprisonment according to Chinese law on the 13th. He asks whether Russian offenders who should be sentenced to death according to Chinese law should be shot.

This matter has been referred to the Ministry of Justice and the Foreign Office for consideration.

The Ministry of Justice has proposed a revision of the second article of the criminal code governing the nationals of non-treaty powers and submitted the same to the Foreign Office for consideration.

and Mississippi and that he would carry Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia.

ROOT MAKES REPLY

Senator Elihu Root, replying to Governor Cox's challenge of his (Senator Root's) criticism of Governor Cox's League of Nations policy, said that he would not willingly do Governor Cox an injustice but, if the latter had substantially changed his propaganda, which he had announced to be in complete accord with the attitude of President Wilson, who had steadfastly refused to assent to reservations to the Covenant, he (Senator Root), had not heard of it and the change was not indicated by the vague expressions used by Governor Cox, that he would accept reservations, which would clarify the situation and be helpful in reassuring the American people.

Baltimore, Oct. 24.—Governor Cox, speaking here today, made a vigorous attack on the League of Nations speeches by Senator Harding, Mr. Taft and Senator Hiram Johnson. He declared that they gave proof of further "wobbling," on the part of Senator Harding and his associates. Governor Cox declared that "helpful reservations were a prerequisite to ratification."

Regular Air Service From U.S. To Alaska May Be Established

Army Airplanes Return From 9,000 Mile Journey To Far North

(Reuter's Service)

New York, October 21.—Four United States army aeroplanes which started from Mineola on July 15 for a trip to Nome Alaska and back have completed the round trip of 9,000 miles. The object was to establish an aerial route to the north-west corner of the American Continent and to photograph areas in Alaska which are otherwise inaccessible.

It is understood that the commander of the expedition will recommend that a regular air service should be instituted between the United States and Alaska. He reports having frequently sighted herds of reindeer, caribou, bear and mountain sheep. The Indian inhabitants fled at the approach of the machines.

Rubber Planters Make Big Russian Contract

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 22.—Mr. W. F Regan, who, on behalf of the Rubber Planters' Union, has arranged a contract amounting to £2,000,000 for supplying rubber to Russia—the rubber to be delivered between March, 1921, and December 1922. informed an interviewer that he was satisfied to accept Russian paper currency, while for 1922 deliveries gold would be paid at Amsterdam.

He emphasised that the money paid by Russia in this deal would be switched on to the Federated Malay States, but that the British Government would draw excess profits tax on it, and this would help to reduce the national best.

Soviet Announces That It Will At Once Repatriate All Nationals

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Oct. 24.—A message from Moscow, received by the Associated Press, states that, according to the agreement between the Soviet and British representatives, all British nationals, including prisoners will be immediately repatriated, beginning on October 20.

Twenty-five Americans are imprisoned at Moscow and a number of others are detained for various reasons. These with others, who were unable to leave Russia in 1918, now wish for repatriation.

It is estimated that there are 3,000 Americans in Russia, including naturalised Americans. The Soviet is facilitating the departure to America, of the aged women, wishing to rejoin their husbands, and the sick.

The repatriation of prisoners and persons, detained for political reasons, is not announced. It is stated that this will be effected where it is mutually profitable to the countries concerned but, unless the United States consents to such an arrangement, the authorities declare that it will be impossible to release its nationals.

Good Morning! Has Mr. Homeowner Come Up Lately to See Your Plans?

He is a gentleman—has plenty of income—a beautiful wife—three healthy children—a good temperament, but —if he should discover later that his roof would not give the kind of service expected, he is going to raise something!

How could he find out? HE doesn't have to; Mr. Weatherman will find out for him! Mr. Weatherman will play showers upon his roof, see if it leaks; will throw snow and hail on it, see if it cracks; will send blazing sun rays to pentrate it and make the children cry; will freeze it up, get Mr. Fog, Mr. Smoke, or somebody to destroy it. Will his roof stand all that?

It depends on YOU—who make the specification, but we know that he will treat you as a good friend if you let us get on his roof.

BISHOP LAMBUTH HERE AT SESSIONS OF CONFERENCE

The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is in session in Shanghai at the Moore Memorial Church on Yunnan Road and is getting along splendidly with its business. It held its first session last Thursday when Bishop Walter R. Lambuth preached the opening sermon. Bishop Lambuth was born in China where his father was at work as a missionary. Later on he went to Korea and Japan and from there went to America for his schooling. When he completed his training he returned to China as a missionary where he spent several years in active service. With these qualifications, he is able to handle the intricate parts of the conference business in a way others would be unable to.

When the conference roll was called on Thursday 64 clerical delegates and 22 lay delegates responded. Others have come in since and the roll is doubtless over 100. This conference covers the district immediately around Shanghai, reaching out to Soochow, Changchow, Wusih, Sungkiang and as far as Huchow and Mokanshan. There are close to 10,000 communicates and a bright prospect for more.

MANY SPEAKERS

Many important questions were called Thursday and Friday and most of the heads of institutions made their reports, all of which were encouraging. Soochow University was reported by Dr. J. W. Cline; the Bible School at Sungkiang was reported by Rev. A. C. Bowen, and the progress of the proposed Vocational Training School at Wusih was reported by R. D. Smart. The presiding elders of the conference gave in their reports and some of the preachers on charges spoke of their work. Rev. R. E. Dickenson from Colorado Springs, Colorado was introduced and spoke. Bishop Birney of the Methodist Episcopal Church visited the conference and was also introduced. Dr. Stephenson, secretary of the Board of Missions of the Canadian Methodists, was also present. Most of the committees were appointed and reported a soon as they were ready.

The work was continued on Saturday and the committees were very busy. Those who were to be ordained were examined and the results were reported. Fourteen were examined and passed the examinations successfully for Deacons' orders, and eight were elected to Elders' orders. These were ordained by the Bishop on Sunday. The two hours from 10:00 a.m. to noon were taken up by the special committee on the Centenary and they presented the results of the year's work, as well as the expectations of the coming year. The members of the Moore Memorial Church and the Allen Memorial Church of Shanghai invited all the members of conference to tiffin at the M. Y. San Resturant. Several speeches were made and the affair was greatly enjoyed.

SUNDAY'S SERVICES

Bishop Lambuth preached at Moore Memorial Church at 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning and after the service he ordained the candidates for Deacons' orders. In the afternon the conference convened in Memorial session and a service was held in honor of those who were of the Conference and had died during the year. The names of G. R. Loehr (China 1880) and Mrs. N. G. Gist, were mentioned with others and several spoke of the influence of these people when they were on the field and in the work. Bishop Lambuth made some comforting remarks and said that their labors were not yet done, their work will live on.

At 8:00 p.m. an evangelistic service was held and Rev. R. E. Dickenson preached in English and Rev. Kaung Zang-tse interpreted into Chinese. His sermon was on the line of service and his appeal was to the members of conference to do as the Master did; go out after souls. Immediately after the preaching service eight men were ordained Elders and were welcomed into the conference. Several people were then baptised by the Bishop and taken into the church. After this ceremony the Lord's Supper was administered to those present, Rev. J. L. Hendry officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Faung Yoen-foo, Rev. Li Dzong-doen and others. The service was very impressive.

More reports were given Monday morning and a few details were completed. At the close of the morning session Rev. Dickenson stated that the Sunday School of his church in Colorado Springs had for sometime supported Rev. T. S. Tsang of Changsu and as a token of their esteem they had purchased a splendid Bible and he was delegated to present it to Mr. Tsang. Mr. Tsang was called forward and received this token of love from friends whom he had never met, yet whom he was sure were supporting him in his work among his fellow men. There was no regular afternoon session but various important committees met and the work was rounded up for the following day.

Autumn Rowing Regatta Concludes At Henli; Not Up To Last Year's Mark

Small Entry List And Lack Of Excitement; But Spectators Enjoy The Fine Weather And Such Close Finishes As Are Provided—Second Day's Results

The second day (Sunday) of the Autumn Regatta of the Shanghai Rowing Club was a great success from every point of view, the weather again being of the delightful variety which prevailed on Saturday. As usual, the Sunday program was rather more diversified, and included events of other than oarsmanship, such as motor-boat races and competitions in which ladies took part.

From a purely rowing standpoint this year's Autumn Regatta scarcely takes its place with preceding functions of the kind; but the outing up-country was thoroughly enjoyed by such people as did make the journey up to Henli, especially by those who had house-boats.

In the International Trial Fours an American crew unfortunately did not materialise; so England and Scotland fought out the issue by themselves. The English quartette had the race well in hand from the start and eventually came in first by several lengths.

The crews were:

NASH WINS TUB SCULLS

The Tub Sculls were next on the list, and Nash, who had walked away from Buss on Saturday, met Woodfield in the final. There was a greeat disparity in the weights of the two men, Nash being 137 lbs. and Woodfield 197 lbs. The lighter equipment won quite easily, many lengths showing between the two craft at the finish.

The Veterans' Race fell through, owing to lack of entries.

The Griffins' Fours finals brought out three entries, but Station No. 3 was disqualified after a fine struggle with Station No. 1 boat for second place. Thus only two places were recorded, viz., Station No. 2 boat (first) and Station No. 1 (second). Time 5m. 51s.

The winners were never seriously pressed.

THE S.V.C. FOURS

The S.V.C. Fours was also rather an unexciting race, the Artillery showing their heels without much difficulty to the only other four competing, the American Co.

The crews were:

A PRETTY FINISH

The Club Fours was more of a sporting finish, all three boats being well bunched at the end after quite a dingdong struggle all the way down the course. The quartet stroked by "Torry" Wilson was first; Macdonald second and Brown third.

THE MIXED FOURS

The Mixed Fours was a very popular event eliciting no less than four entries, each crew consisting of a lady at bow and stroke and a man at 2 and 3, the cox being of the fair sex.

Mrs. Schlobohm coxed the winning boat, the crew of which rowed nicely together and won with ease, in 4:51 2-5 for the half-mile course.

The Club Eights looked well on the water, the 3 boats arriving as follows: (winners time 6.09 3-5).

The motor-boat race was as interesting an event as any on either day's program, though there were nothing like so many boats in it as in previous years. Only three participated—the Oo-La-La, the Lois, and Mr. E. T. Byrne's boat.

The scheme adopted for the race was the hand-and-go-back principle of handicapping, and it resulted in Mr. Byrne's boat arriving home first, the Lois beating the Oo-La-La after a fine struggle for second place.

It should be mentioned that Mr. T. H. Suffert did yeoman service all through the regatta on board his beautiful craft the Oo-La-La, providing accommodation for the starters and judges until the launch which had been expected for them arrived on the scene on Saturday.

SAILORS HONOR LIEUT. WHEELER AT NAVY "Y"

Departing Officer Is Guest At Banquet And Smoker; Fine Program Given

A banquet and smoker were held in the gymasium of the Navy Y.M.C.A. on Saturday night in honor of Lieutenant C. F. Wheeler of U.S.S. Palos, formerly commander of Second Division of U.S.S. Huron, known as the "Fighting Second," in farewell to and in appreciation of that popular officer, to whom the men of the Huron attribute much of their success in winning various and sundry medals in recent ships athletic contests.

The room was decorated with many flags, while flowers and exhibitions of moving pictures were furnished by the "Y". A delectable banquet was served by Sullivan, and music was furnished by a nine-piece orchestra from the flag ship. Following the repast and picture-show an elaborate program was given as follows:

Boxing—Hamilton vs. Waggoner, Schmol vs. Fernandez, Driscoll vs. Dounen, Byrne vs. Davis.

The bouts were mostly draws, but some snappy work was performed in every contest.

Wrestling—Hughes vs. Letchworth, Dorrier vs. Kilburn. These also provided excellent intertainment.

Cup Fight—Wells, Hanes, Sherman, Hamilton, Davis. Plenty of fun.

Battle Royal—Malesky, Jenson, Bergstrom, Babcock, Coon, Dunn. More fun.

Clog Dance—Wresinski. A real "find."

Hula hula Dance—Fernandez and Gamboa. Reminiscent of Waikiki.

Comedy Sketch—Sides and Charborneau. A screan.

Quartette—O'Barr, Siegrist, Faulkner, Howe and Doyle. Splendid.

Recitation — Waggoner. Very good.

Announcer—G. G. Yoager, Referee—E. S. Patterson, Time keeper—G. J. Krause.

Much of the great success of evening was due to the efficient work of Chief Boatswain't Mate J. Malesky, of the Huron.

DEMPSEY NOT PERMITTED TO BOX UNTIL "LOGICAL CONTENDER" COMES ALONG

New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts "Step On" Attempts To Stage Battles With Brennan And Wills—Other Boxing News From The States

By "Right Cross"

It begins to look as though Jack Dempsey were going to be most everlastingly licked.

No, gentle reader, not by Georges Carpentier—at least, that is on the knees of the gods—but by Ol' "Kayo" Law.

Never heard of him? Well, he's cropped up lately in both New York and Massachusetts, under the management of the Boxing Commissions of those two commonwealths—and he says that "Our Jack" is not going to be allowed to show his wares in either the Empire or the Bay State unless a "logical contender" is pitted against him.

True as true, just like I'm telling you. The New York Boxing Commish, recent papers of those parts announce, just plum' put its foot down on a proposed 15-round quarrel between Dempsey and "Wild Bill" Brennan, on the ground that "Wild Bill" was just a set-up for Jack!.

And to think, "Wild Bill" boasts, and Dempsey admits, that he (Brennan) won a decision over the champ just before that well-known Dempsey-Willard affair at Toledo.

STARTED FOR BOSTON

Abashed but not dismayed, the Dempsey-Brennan combination moved on toward Boston, and cut the size of the prospective bout from fifteen to twelve chukkers. But just as the two boxers started skipping the rope in anticipation of a shindy, down dropped a ukase from the Massachusetts Fathers, to the same effect as that previously promulgated in New York.

Then the New Jersey promoters tried to put over a Dempsey-Moran embroglio, guaranteeing that Frank had his "Mary Ann" in working order once more and would give the champeem one whale of a battle.

"HO-HO!" SAID THEY

"Ho-ho!" chortles the New Jersey Boxing Commission; and, likewise, "He-he!" And down comes a ukase sounding much like those of New York and Massachusetts: "Go get yourself a 'logical contender!'

So it looks as though "Our Jack" was not going to be permitted to bash the features of any human, under legal supervision, until either Georges Carpentier or Harry Wills, "the big smoke," clamber through the ropes to tackle him.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 21.—Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight champion, now serving sentence for violation of the Mann act, made his first appearance in the ring at the Federal penitentiary here today, when he boxed three bouts of three rounds each with three other inmates. Johnson appeared to be in good condition. The bouts were staged for the benefit of D. S. Dickerson, Superintendent of Federal Prisons, who has known Johnson for several years.

Benny Valger, the American feather-weight, who knocked out Jimmy Hill when the Australian was in this country, claims to have received an offer to go to Australia and box Hill there. This would be a fine opening for Valger, who should be able to defeat Hill or any other feather-weight in Kangarooland. Valger might then journey to France and be defeating the featherweight champion of that country, make good his claim that he is the "French featherweight champion." If Valger goes to France it will be the first time he ever fought on the soil of that country.

Tancy Lee, former feather-weight champion of England and possessor of the first Lonsdale belt in that division, is to try to regain the honors of that class. He has been matched to meet Mike Honeyman, the present title holder, in a bout for the honors the National Sporting Club.

England Defeats Ireland In First Of Internationals

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 23.—The first International association football match of the season was played at Sunderland today, when England defeated Ireland by two goals to none.

PROFESSIONALS "DOUBLE-SHOOT" BRITISH SPORTS

Many Fine Cricketers Now In "Pro" Football Elevens; Like Both Games

London, October 1.—A feature of the present football season is the number of professionals engaged by the big clubs who have distinguished themselves at cricket during the past summer.

There have always, of course, been a few of these versatile athletes in British games, but in the old days it was usually an occasional amateur who won honors at both pastimes. Such men, for instance, as Commander C. B. Fry, R. E. Foster, A. Lyttelton, and at "Rugger" R. H. Spooner and A. E. Stoddart.

William Gunn, Ernest Needham, and John Sharp, the Lancashire amateur, are names that occur readily as "double firsts" among the football professionals.

COULD RAISE ELEVEN

Today professional football could easily put an eleven into the field which would take a lot of beating at cricket. Hardinge (Woolwich Arsenal), Walden (Tottenham Hotspur), Ducat (Aston Villa), Makepace (Everton), Hendren (Brestford, Durston (Brentford), and Howell are all first-class cricketers, to say nothing of the many cricket professionals taking part in minor league football.

In the great cricket match which concluded at Lord's recently three very prominent cricketing-footballers were engaged, and one of them—Durston—had special leave of absence on Monday afternoon to assist Brentford against Millwall, returning to his place in the Middlesex eleven yesterday morning.

ALL-ROUND ABILITY

The event, unique one fancies in the annals of the two games, is but one of many signs of the present tendency of our leading professionals to cultivate all-round proficiency rather than over-specialise on one game.

It might be supposed that the average professional found it hard to acclimatise himself to two such different and opposed environments.

Interviewed at Lord's recently, Durston stated that as a professional, always playing in public, crowds—cricket or football—had little effect upon him. "The cricket crowd is, of course, far more sedate, and displays perhaps a keener knowledge of its own game than the football spectators do. The football crowds in their no doubt justifiable enthusiasm are generally very anxious to see their own side win. They are more excitable than the followers of county cricket."

"PLEASURE IS EQUAL"

Hendren, the famous Brentford forward, said: "I find just as much pleasure in playing before cricketers as in front of footballers, but I rather think the first know more about the finer points of one's play."

With these opinions, no regular follower of sport is likely to cavil, although the very different conditions under which the two games are played must not be overlooked. Cricket requires considerable time and sunshine; football is short and often accompanied by depressing and irritating weather. The effect of such atmospherical conditions on an excited crowd must necessarily have considerable bearing on its demeanor. H. R. M.

Fuhtan Beats Customs Team At Football

The football team of Fuhtan College, in its initial game of the 1920 season, played on the college grounds last Saturday afternoon, defeated a team from the Customs by the decisive score of three goals to none.

The Customs eleven had difficulty in co-ordinating itself in the first half, when the Fuhtan forwards piled up all of their scores. In the second period the losers did much better on the defense, but were unable to shoot a score past the Fuhtan goal-keeper.

Tomorrow afternoon the Fuhtan team will meet the representatives of the Nanyang Institute of Technology; and, on November 7, will clash with the Chinese Recreation Ground eleven.

Nichols Emulates Pott In Exhibition Of Pluck On The Tennis Courts

Finalist In Columbia Country Club Tournament, Attacked By Illness, Gamely Continues Match With Thomas And Wins 1920 Title

By Dudley Burrows

An exciting finish, outdone only by that of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association's tournament a week ago last Saturday, was provided yesterday afternoon in the finals (championship) match of the annual handicap tourney of the Columbia Country Club, wherein Mr. R. B. Nichols succeeded in vanquishing Mr. J. Trevor Williams, 0-6, 6-2, 8-6 6-4.

Mr. Nichol's performance was quite as remarkable as that of Mr. W. S. A. Pott in the S. L. T. A. finals, when the latter went with a badly wrenched knee in against Mr. J. Tanaka, the title-holder, and won undying fame for himself by taking the championship match in straight sets.

During the first game of the opening set yesterday afternoon Mr. Nichols was taken ill and, for a time, it was feared that he could not go through with the match and would be compelled to default.

After an intermission of ten minutes, however, he elected to continue and after losing the first set at "love," gamely walked off with the next three sets and the championship of 1920.

A HARD ENCOUNTER

It was a hard match throughout and a plucky exhibition on the part of the winner. Mr. Nichols played a net game throughout and was invincible on short lobs sent over the net by his adversary. Mr. Thomas played hard and steadily throughout the match, but was outgeneralled by Mr. Nichols, who put up a superb exhibition after recovering from his sudden illness.

There were twenty-five players through in the singles.

Mr. C. W. Atkinson and Dr. W. Rector Smith annexed the doubles championship from Mr. W. H. Daub and Dr. A. M. Massey after another hard battle which also went to four sets, 7-5, 8-6, 4-6, 6-4.

LOSERS PRAISED

Messrs. Daub and Massey, who drew the heavier opposition in their half of the bracket, played excellent tennis throughout, only to falted in the finals round, before the steadier play of their opponents.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's play silver cups were awarded to the winners of the two championships.

The tournament, which was conducted without a single hitch, was in the hands of a committee composed of Messrs. C. W. Atkinson, R. B. Nichols and A. V. Dawson.

THE INTERPORT TEAM

Some interesting changes are announced in the personnel of the Interport tennis team which is to represent Shanghai at Hongkong on November 13.

Mr. J. Elmore, who was to have been coupled with Mr. W. S. A. Pott in one of the doubles

13 Are Indicted For Conspiring To Debauch Baseball

(U. S. Naval Radio)

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The Cook County Grand Jury, which has been investigating charges of fraud and bribery in connection with the 1919 World baseball series between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds, has handed down a total of 13 indictments against certain Chicago players and the gamblers who debauched them.

The indicted persons are charged with "conspiracy to commit an illegal act," in violation of a statute designating such a proceeding as felony and providing penitentiary terms for those found guilty under its provisions.

Armies Of War Lords Increase In Spite Of Cry For Demobilisation

Tsao Kun Controls Frontier Forces As Chang Tso-lin Takes Over Northwestern Divisions Of Outlawed Anfu General, "Little Hsu"

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, October 21.—The military conference in Paotingfu serves as another reminder to the Chinese people that their government is not in the hands of their premier and cabinet but of the predominant military commanders of the day, who, entirely without constitutional right or precedent, allot governmental positions and determine policies according to the psychology which ordinarily governs a division of spoils.

Demobilisation, or in a larger sense, demilitarisation, has been the watchery of every movement and organisation and every new regime which has attained popularity in China within the past two years. And the military have increased along with the talk of abolishing them. The facts are these:

STATISTICS COMPILED

On January 1, 1919, according to statistics accurately and carefully compiled, there were in all the 21 provinces of China, including regular and irregular forces—that is, police, constabulary and gendarmes—1,200,000 men under arms. By August 1, 1920, this number had increased to 1,600 000—an increase of 400,000, or a number equivalent to the entire standing army of Japan—in one year and a half.

And what about since August last, when the traitorous and military Anfuites were displaced by the Chihli-Fengtien coalition, whose primary policy as prepared for public consumption was the reduction of military forces?

The Anfu armies were largely disintegrated and it looked for a time as if the military burden saddling China would be reduced at least by this quantity.

DEFENSE DIVISIONS

But Tsao Kun has taken under his wing the neuclei of the three Frontier Defense Divisions and is again recruiting them to full strength; Chang Tso-lin is reorganising the three mixed Northwestern Defense Mixed Brigades of ex-General Hsu Shu-tseng, and on top of it all several of these brigades, as well as the Chihli brigades of Feng Yu-hsiang and Wu Pei-fu's Manchu commander Wang, are being increased to full divisions.

The basis of the difficulty is that in China the soldier is considered as the private property of his commander. It is a common sight to see soldiers paid by the government designated to menial work about the private residences of their officers or their officers' concubines, families or friends. They exist for the comfort or political prestige of their commandants.

BUILDS UP FORCE

When a man is appointed Tuchun of a province he builds up a force about him as loyal to him personally as it is possible to make it. When he is removed from that office he takes his force with him, and his successor must build up another force to take its place. Thus the fungus grows.

An illustration is found in the recent report that Wang Chuan yuan, of Hupeh, was to be transferred to Kiangsu to succeed Li Shun. Of course," said the report, "he will take his Second Division to Nanking with him, and this will necessitate the creation of another force in Hupeh." Such a proposition would be absurd in almost any other country on earth.

China possesses—or rather her feudal lords in the aggregate possess—by far the largest standing army in the world. And yet, owing to the psychology of the Chinese people, as well as to material circumstances, China is not a militaristic nation and never will be. The greatest proof that China is not militaristic is the fact that her troops are bringing sorrow to their own people alone and not to the people of any other or neighboring country.

Belgians Decorate French Generals

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 24.—General Maglinse, Chief of the General Staff of the Belgian Army, yesterday morning in the name of King Albert presented the Military Cross of the First Class to Marshal Foch and the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown to Generals Weygand and Buat.

Peking Lawyers To Make Representations As To Shangtung matches, finds that it is impossible to get away from other engagements and make the trip.

In his place the Shanghai team will probably avail itself of the presence in Hongkong, with the interport Cricket team, of Mr. H. B. ("Harry-boy") Ollerdessen, who has played bang-up doubles in bygone days when coupled with Mr. Pott.

NEED MR. TOUSSAINT

The committee has not yet given up hope that Mr. H. Toussaint, who won the 1920 S.L.T.A. doubles title with Mr. R. Carnavarro, will be able to so arrange his affairs that he can make the southern trip.

In this case Messrs. Toussaint and Carnavarro will play one of the doubles matches; Messrs. Pott and Ollerdessen another; while Mr. Pott, Mr. Carnavarro and Mr. Tanaka will be entrusted with the singles play.

If Mr. Toussaint decides he cannot make the trip Messrs. Tanaka and Carnavarro will probably team up in the other doubles match.

It is expected that the team will leave for the Crown Colony on November 7, in ample time for beginning the matches on the morning of the 13th.

COVERED-COURTS TITLES

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—The following are the results of the finals of the world's covered-courts lawn tennis championships, played at the Queen's Club yesterday:

Men's Singles: Mr. Gordon Lowe beat Mr. W. G. Crawley 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.

Men's Doubles: Messrs. P. Davson and G. Mavrogordato beat the Hon. F. M. B. Fisher and Mr. A. Beamish 1-6, 10-8, 13-11, 3-6, 6-3.

Mixed Doubles: The Hon. F. M. B. Fisher and Mrs. Peacock, lady champion of India, by default. Mr. S. N. Doust and Miss McKane scratched.

Ladies' Singles: Mrs. Beamish beat Miss McKane 6-2, 5-7, 9-7.

Cumming Wins Hungjao Title

K. M. Cumming won the Hungjao club's golf championship yesterday from a field which included all the "probables" except Dr. J. E. Murray. The winner played very steady golf, his first round score being 78 and second round 80. A week ago, however, he did the course in 70 in his game against England.

Dr. Marshall was second, only one stroke behind, and R. E. Wilson third with 164.

Results:

K. M. Cumming	158
R. J. Marshall	159
R. E. Wilson	164
N. H. Bolton	167
R. E. Newman	168

MacSwiney Unconscious With Death Near As Military Probes Murders

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

London, October 24.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney is still lingering on. He is still unconscious and his sisters were not allowed to see him today.

London, October 23.—It is stated at midnight that Lord Mayor MacSwiney was at the point of death.

New York, October 22.—The London correspondent of the Associated Press telegraphs that Lord Mayor MacSwiney seems to be conscious. He recognised his sister when she visited him today. He is being forcibly fed with liquid food.

DELIBERATE MURDER

London, October 22.—The military court which has been inquiring into the ambushing of police at Malbay, County Clare, on October 9, when two constables were killed found that the men were wilfully murdered by about 50 unknown individuals. Evidence showed that expanding bullets were used and deceased were robbed after death.

London, October 23.—A patrol of seven men of the Essex Regiment in a motor-lorry were ambushed by 120 Sinn Feiners in County Cork yesterday. They put up a great resistance for an hour until three were killed and three wounded when the attackers made a bayonet charge at the solitary survivor and knocked him down.

VICTIMS' BODIES LOOTED

It is stated that the Sinn Feiners did not assist the wounded but searched the pockets of the dead and wounded for loot. No arrests were made. Another motor-lorry, which was carrying important despatches, burst through the ambush and escaped.

London, October 22.—Sir L. Worthington Evans, minister without portfolio, in the House of Commons today, moved the adoption of the financial resolutions of the Home Rule Bill. He said that the general scheme of the Finance provided for a period of two years.

Ireland contributed £18,000,000 towards the Imperial Services, the contribution being divided between Southern and Northern Ireland. The Government was empowered, to reduce the contribution, if it was thought necessary, after the second financial year and thereafter the contribution would be subject to periodical revision at the end of sixty-five years.

DEVLIN REINSTATED

The Government could not agree to the transfer of Customs duties, income tax and super-tax to the Irish Parliament.

Sir Edward Carson said that the Northern Counties would not shirk their share of the contribution.

New York, October 22.—The London correspondent of the Associated Press telegraphs that the House of Commons today voted to terminate the suspension of Mr. Joseph Devlin, Nationalist Member for the Falls division Belfast. Mr. Devlin was suspended during the debate, preceding the final passage of the Irish Coercion Bill.

Banquet Tendered Retiring Engineer

Mr. E. T. Forestier, Leaving S.H.N. Railway Is Guest Of Honor

Mr. E. T. Forestier, who has resigned his post as Constructional District Engineer of the Shanghai-Hangchow-Ningpo Railway to take the place of Mr. F. O. Reynolds, was guest of honor at a banquet given in his honor at the Great Eastern Hotel Saturday night when he was presented with a silver memorial shield and received the good wishes of many of his friends and fellow workers.

A speech in recognition of Mr. Forestier's seven years of valuable service in the interests of the road was made by Mr. Tang Lock, Assistant Engineer, on behalf of the engineering staff. He paid tribute to Mr. Forestier's ability and spoke feelingly of the spirit of helpfulness and friendly cordiality which had always characterised their relations. He described the guest of honor as "exactly the kind of man whose assistance China needs," and praised his work in assistance of Young China in her engineering sphere.

ADJOURN $90,000 SUIT

The case brought by Wright and Hornby against one Lou Tak-po as maker of a promissory note for Hongkong Dollars 90,000, payable to plaintiffs on demand, and also interest at 6 percent and $460 costs, was adjourned sine die in the British Supreme Court yesterday at the request of Mr. M. Reader Harris, appearing for the plaintiffs.

Mr. Harris stated that he had received telegraphic instructions from Hongkong not to proceed further for the present. Mr. K. E. Newman, for the defendant, said he had no objection, provided he had liberty to apply, and a ruling in accordance was given.

SAILORS AT HANGCHOW

A party of sailors from U.S.S. Huron and New Orleans enjoyed a week-end excursion to Hangchow where they were delightfully entertained by the American community including the Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross representatives. Mr. J. C. Oliver took general charge of the party and together with Messrs. E. E. Barnett, Robert Fitch and others, gave the boys a most pleasant time. Saturday night an entertainment was given for them at the City Y. M. C. A. Numerous hikes were taken to the famous Pagodas, temples and beautiful Westlake. The trip was arranged by the Navy Y. M. C. A. which started the boys off with a bountiful lunch aboard train.

ELECTRICAL APPARATUS FOR EVERY PURPOSE

This trade mark is the guarantee of dependable electrical equipment

Electrifying the World

Three great problems were involved in electrifying the world.
First—The economical generation of electric energy.
Second—Its far transmission and wide distribution.
Third—Its practical application to use.

Prominent in the solving of these problems has been Westinghouse Electric, and to it is due much of the progress of the use of electricity, in power plants, central stations, railway and steamship lines, manufacturing industry and household convenience.

Westinghouse Electric harnessed the power of Niagara Falls.

It made practical the Parsons steam turbine for electric generation.

It perfected reduction gears by which the terrific velocity of the turbine generator could be safely yoked to the propeller shafts of steamships.

Westinghouse Electric developed the transformer by which alternating current came into general use, effecting wide and more economical distribution of electric energy.

It developed the induction motor which today does such a large share of the world's work.

Westinghouse—the Institution—stands a dominant figure at the parting of the ways between the age of steam and the age of electricity.

plishing the maximum benefit with funds contributed here.

Those who will serve on the newly appointed committee are Messrs. Wang I-ding, George Fitch, Lo Pa-hoong, W. Soutar, Woo Bai-tsing, C. H. Grosbois, Zih Li-kung and H. W. Lester.

At yesterday's meeting Bishop Graves made a short talk in which he emphasised the necessity of working in accordance with a central, co-ordinated relief plan, and pointed out that since the general international relief committee is not yet fully organised it would be best for the Shanghai organisation to delegate the work of distributing the money and supplies collected here to a special committee. This found favor with the others who attended the meeting with the result that the special committee was named and authorised to begin work immediately.

WHAT IS BEING DONE

At the meeting last evening there was some discussion of a reply to a letter that had been addressed to the international relief committee at Peking, asking what had been done in the matter of fixing a relief policy. The reply, received yesterday from Peking, follows:

"Beyond acceding to American Red Cross Society's request for allotment of Special district the Peking United Committee are not dividing famine area into separate units. We consider most effective form of relief lies in coordination of all the societies and organisations into centers which will distribute relief according to one general plan. We are inviting delegates to a conference here for first week of November to arrange fields of work and best form of financial distribution."

OUTLINES PROPOSALS

A letter from Mr. C. Y. Sun, of Tientsin, was read at the meeting yesterday. In this letter Mr. Sun, who has been devoting practically his entire time to famine relief work outlined proposals he made at a meeting of the international famine relief committee in Peking. His letter follows:

"On the 9th inst. I reported to you about my proposed trip to Peking with Mr. M. T. Liang, I now wish to state that we went to Peking and attended a meeting of the Peking International Committee on the 11th. At the meeting there were practically equal number of Foreigners and Chinese representing various organisations in the capital. We jointly make the following proposed resolutions:

1.—To request the Government to recognise the seriousness of the famine situation and to show more interest in approving and achieving more substantial and energetic deeds, rather than mere words, and to assume the responsibility of the present indescribable precarious conditions prevailing the affected area.

ASK OFFICIAL STATUS

2.—To request the Government to grant official status to the International Relief Societies for undertaking the present relief work in China.

3.—The Government should act at once to get immediately $300,000 for the I. R. S. to purchase grains to transport the same to such centers in the famine districts for distribution before inland navigation closes for the winter. (This sum will be refunded to the Government when a big loan is made for this relief purpose.)

4.—The government should be strongly recommended to negotiate a loan of two hundred million gold dollars for relief work, providing $5 per head for nine months relief, i.e., feeding, housing replacing their livestock etc.

WANTS RAILROADS TO HELP

5.—The board of Communications should grant free freightage on all Government railways for transportation of relief Cereals and necessities, and accepting the issued free passenger passes by the I. R. S. and further allow the relief workers to use all the telegraph lines free of charge, for transmission of Chinese and Foreign telegrams, coding and decoding the former free.

6.—The I. R. S. should endeavor to unite all the charitable societies or institutions into one in order to avoid duplication and profiteering, at the same time to facilitate public subscription.

7.—The executive head office of the I. R. S. to be in Tientsin while the administrative office to be in Peking.

SEEK OFFICIAL HELP

8.—The I. R. S. should adopt a general plan for relief work:

After giving urgent relief word as a free gift, the following relief should be given in shape of loan which will impress the people and educate them to be self dependent. Of course free gifts could be given in special cases.

B. Start an agriculture bank with explanations.

9.—To formulate general plans as how to prevent further floods and drought and to ensure future properity to the ever suffering farmers.

10.—To enlist all the missionary societies to give their services in co-operating with the local gentry to survey all the affected areas, to ascertain to need of grains or monetary help etc. for relief work.

VAST AREA AFFECTED

11.—In view of the vastness of the area affected by famine, it is desirable for the I. R. S. to enlist the services of as many as possible real and honest Chinese citizens to serve in various capacities apart from official or ex-official rank so that these citizens may show their love for their fellow suffering brothers and sisters.

12.—To request the Government to nullify all the contracts entered into during the famine period in transferring the right of ownership of land by the suffering farmers.

As I am in a great hurry, I have no time to translate the above resolutions into Chinese I do hope that you will take them up at your next meeting. Please accept them or modify them according to your best judgment. If you do approve them, please take immediate action and instruct me to take the same with the proper organisations or authorities in the name of your Committee. I may add that Mr. Liang is taking the same matter up with the North China International Society of Famine Relief of Tientsin.

"Very respectfully yours,
"C. Y. Sun."

Bovril Officer Suggests League Of Nations Inquiry Of High Cost Of Living

Presiding at the Twelfth Annual General Meeting of the Argentine Estates of Bovril Ltd., held in London on August 26, 1920, Sir George Lawson Johnston (Chairman), referring to his recent visit to the Argentine, said:

I was accorded the privilege of a private interview with the President of the Republic, and have pleasant recollections of his Excellency's courtesy and of a very interesting conversation. It may interest you to know that the increase in the cost of living is not only felt in an importing country like the United Kingdom. In the Argentine I found the prices of, for instance, bread, meat, sugar, and eggs all over twice the 1914 prices, though those articles are all produced in, and surpluses are even exported from that country; whilst coal, which is imported into Buenos Aires, costs over five times the pre-war price.

DESCRIBES MEASURES

Argentine is a great exporter of wheat, but in Buenos Aires I found the hoardings covered with official posters pictorially explaining economical methods in the use of bread. At home we have been told by economic experts that high costs are in part due to the very large issues of paper money and consequent depreciation of currency values. It is obvious that this is not the cause in Argentina, as there the issue of paper dollars shows only a comparatively small increase—about 30 percent—whilst the relative proportion of gold to paper currency is higher than it was before the war.

Popular feeling has led the Argentine Government to prohibit exports in the case of certain foodstuffs, whilst the foreigner is made to pay taxes by way of export duties, which have been put on nearly all products, on a basis of a percentage of the excess over pre-war prices.

'PROFITEERING'

In spite of record prosperity you as frequently hear the cry of "profiteer" in South America as you do here and wages and labor questions are at least as difficult. In fact, in comparison, inter-class-friendship is less strained in the United Kingdom, probably owing to the special tax measures that have been taken to "pluck" the maker of war profits. Here the "profiteer" has lost many feathers through excess profits duties and the old rich have been turned into new poor by income and super taxes, death duties, etc. In the Argentine Republic, on the other hand, where so many have grown richer since 1914, an important topic of conversation during the time of my visit was the possibility of a 10d. in the pound maximum income tax being imposed.

The fact is that the bulk of the discontent all over the world is caused not simply by the increase in prices, but has arisen because popular opinion believes them to have been raised excessively by "profiteers." As we of the Bovril Group are somewhat persistent anti-"profiteers" in precept and practice, I take the liberty of suggesting that until the matter is investigated officially and internationally, and the instances and effects of "profiteering" are sifted out from the other causes creating the rise in the cost of living, we shall not begin to get rid of the feelings of class suspicion and discontent that are so prevalent throughout the world.

INQUIRY BY THE LEAGUE

I see the League of Nations has committees on armaments, international health, transit, waterway problems, and international justice. May I respectfully suggest to the authorities of that League that they can do a great world service by adding a committee to consider internationally the question of the cost of food?

It was recently stated that the newspapers give only brief summaries of even important speeches about the League of Nations, and who are better judges of what the public wants to read than the newspaper editors? I venture to suggest that the tackling of this question of food costs by an authoritative committee of the League of Nations would do more to awaken practical public interest in the League, and to secure universal support for it, than any other single action it could take. This is the subject of all others that touches the daily life of the people and unceasingly absorbs the attention of the masses in all countries throughout the world. National investigations are bound to be limited in scope—to stop short at the incidence of exchange and similar problems—but a committee of the League of Nations would have at its disposal the official data from the greater part of the world, and its findings should be free from any suspicion of local political bias.

Agreeable and Effective

No one likes to take castor oil, calomel, or harsh laxatives, and it is really not necessary. The same beneficial results may be obtained with Dr. Ross' Life Pills with the added advantage of a tonic effect which builds up the system.

This famous remedy thoroughly clears out the digestive tract, opens the bile-ducts, and stimulates the action of the liver. The result is a clear head, added vitality and vigor, good appetite, good digestion. That is why they are called "Life Pills."

GRAND JURY TO SIFT EXPLOSION

September Body To Devote All Its Efforts Toward Tracing The Guilty Persons

New York, September 19.—With the aid of all the officials and experts engaged on the different angles of the Wall Street explosion, the September Grand Jury will begin its inquiry tomorrow morning. It has decided to devote its entire activities to trace the identity of the criminals responsible for the disaster, Judge William H. Wadhams, of General Sessions, with a view to speeding the investigation and getting all of the important evidence from witnesses while their information is fresh in their minds, requested the jurymen yesterday to hold continuous morning and afternoon sessions, if possible.

To clear the way for work, Judge Wadhams requested the District Attorney to transfer to the Additional Grand Jury all of the matters he had originally intended to place before the September Grand Jury. While the chief aim of the court, the prosecutor and the jury, will be to punish the guilty, it was said that a general effort would be made to attain results that will enable either State or Federal authorities to reach all "Red" and anarchistic groups throughout the country.

In addition to the information gathered by the District Attorney's office, the Police and Fire Departments and others, co-operation will be had from all the Federal investigators. Chief Assistant District Attorney A. J. Talley said he had obtained offers of co-operation from all agents of the different departments of the National Government concerned in the investigation of the outrage, who also have put themselves at the disposal of the Grand Jury for the common purpose of reaching not only those active in the Wall Street crime, but to devise ways and means for the suppression of all violent enemies of the Government.

Importance is attached to the work of chemists engaged in an analytical study of the materials gathered after the explosion. Through this it is hoped to ascertain the type of the explosive and its source.

Mr. Talley said he was disappointed because few of the survivors of the crash had told anything of value concerning it. Assistant District Attorney B. D. Dineen of the Homicide Bureau questioned injured victims still in the hospitals. Most of them could only describe the effect of the shock upon themselves.

Subpoenas were issued yesterday by Mr. Talley for three witnesses, who have previously been questioned by the police. They are Gilbert C. Smith and John E. Furlong, realty operators at 217 Broadway, and John Melkiejohn a chauffeur, at 247 East Seventy seventh Street. They tell of having seen a wagon marked "Explosives" on Wall Street, between Water and Pearl Streets, a few minutes before the explosion.

REPARATIONS COMMISSION GAINS PRESTIGE

Restoration To Its Treaty Status Is The Chief Result Of The Aix Conference

PARTLY DUE TO AMERICANS

Members Of The Board Backed French In Opposing Meeting Germans

BY WALTER DURANTY

Paris, September 14.—Strong emphasis was laid at Aix on the fact that the conference there was more for the purpose of discussion than of decision. Nevertheless, there will be one concrete result no less important than immediate. This is the restoration of the Reparation Commission to the influence which the Treaty of Versailles assigned to it, but which had been much impaired by the decision reached at San Remo, where Millerand was induced to agree to the Anglo-Italian proposal that the Germans should be admitted to consultation regarding the execution of the treaty.

Despite his later attempts to avoid this discussion with Germany, Premier Millerand had to see it carried out at Spa, where it was further decided that there should be another meeting with the Germans at Geneva, for the purpose of settling the financial matters which are the special prerogative of the Reparation Commission.

The French view was and is that the treaty appointed this allied commission to decide how much and how Germany should pay. It was authorised to summon the Germans for purposes of consultation if it thought fit, but there was no manner of doubt that it was, so to speak, Germany's master, and contemplated no Spa or Geneva discussion with Germany on equal terms. The French hoped that the Reparation Commission would agree on the conditions and amount of German payments, and that Germany would have nothing to do but pay up as instructed. They found out at Spa that Germany did not look at it in that light at all. They thought, too, that England and Italy were overmuch inclined to admit concessions to Germany, and they feared that the Geneva meeting would give Germany another chance to evade the solution of the financial problem which is vital to France in view of her depreciated credit and the reconstruction of her devastated provinces.

Accordingly, the French determined to make a big effort to put the Reparation Commission back on the pedestal of authority from which it had fallen. It is of great significance that the most important function still retained by the United States in respect to the fulfilment of the Treaty of Varsailles has to do with the Reparation Commission, in which the American representatives, though theoretically admitted for purely consultative purposes and without voting powers, are in practice taking an active part in the work. Nothing is done without consulting them. Their advice is much valued and their influence is very considerable.

At the meeting of the commission last Friday there was read a memerandum drawn up by the American emphasising the fact that the commission was appointed by the treaty to settle financial matters which were gradually being taken out of its hands by conferences such as the one held at Spa and the one proposed at Geneva. This suggestion was quite in accord with sentiments of the commission as a whole, and particularly with those of the French members.

The Temps tonight says: "The Aix communique proclaims that the close agreement of Italy, France and England is indispensable. We think that we are truthfully completing M. Millerand's thought in saying that agreement between France and the United States is not less necessary."

The Reparation Commission offered a unique opportunity for putting the desired Franco-American agreement into effect, and the American memorandum showed that the American members were willing. Accordingly, the French, much encouraged, lost no time in notifying England of their wish that the Geneva conference be, if not abandoned, at least postponed for some time.

No definite reply had been received from England at the time when the Aix conference began. The French therefore, not feeling very sure of their ground, set themselves to get the support of Italy. They were favored by the fact that the Italians were in great need of iron, coal, rolling stock, shipping and potash, which they had apparently hoped to get from Germany, but failed to obtain. England could supply all except potash, but, owing to the unfavorable exchange rate of nearly 3 to 1 against the lira, it would be a very expensive purchase for Italy. French exchange, on the other hand, is in the ratio of about 6 to 4. There was, too, a question already pending between France and Italy regarding some 60,000 tons of shipping to which Italy laid claim. Accordingly, a bargain was reached at Aix—the only concrete piece of business concluded. France agreed to give Italy what she wanted economically, and Italy agreed to come into line with France regarding the Reparation Commission, to say nothing of acting as a link to bring French and British policies concerning the German debt closer together.

There is always the possibility that Lloyd George will upset the game by insisting on a financial discussion with Germany at the earliest possible moment. But the French feel that, with Belgium, Italy and morally the United States on their side, the British Premier cannot fail to agree to a considerable postponement, at the very least. By November events in America may throw the balance still further in French favor. Whether that be the case or not, the French now feel confident that the Reparation Commission will resume its rightful authority, of which it was deprived by the San Remo decision to open discussions with Germany.

Woman Wins Place On N. Y. State Political Ticket

Miss Harriet May Mills, of Syracuse, New York, who has been tentatively slated as Democratic candidate for Secretary of New York State by the unofficial State convention at Saratoga. Miss Mills is the first prospective woman designee on any State ticket, it is said. She is noted as a civic and municipal worker in Onondaga County.

Teacher Decorated For Her Aid To French Prisoners

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 23.—Fifty-two French citizens, including 24 officers, arrived in Paris last night, having been repatriated from Russia. General Pau presented the Cross of the Legion of Honor to Mademoiselle Carlier, one of the party, for her self-denying efforts to supply the French imprisoned by the Bolsheviks with food. Mademoiselle Carlier was a French teacher at Moscow.

Stockholm, October 22. Lenin, addressing the Soviet Congress at Moscow said that General Wrangel was the only danger and claimed that the Russian economic situation was growing stronger in spite of the blockade.

This is hardly borne out by the current Soviet budget, just published, which shows expenditure 1,150,000,000,000 roubles, and revenue 150,000,000,000 roubles. The expenditure of the food commissariat alone now amounts to 172,000,000,000.

Seaplane May Be Added To Fleet Of China Aircraft

Canton, October 20 (by mail).—Captain Arthur F. Lym of the Aviation Corps of the Cantonese Army returned from Macao yesterday. It is understood that he has concluded an arrangement with Captain Ricou for taking over the largest of his seaplanes.

DRUG BANDITS JAILED

Three Chinese found guilty of drugging and robbing women were given long prison sentences by the Mixed Court yesterday. Three specific cases of drugging were brought against the men, who admitted guilt. The practice followed by the band was to invite women to tea at various lodging houses, where the leaves of a flower having properties similar to belladonna were mixed with the refreshment. The victims were then robbed of their jewelry and money.

Assessor Blackburn, in giving sentences of three years' to the principal accused and two years each to the others, stated that the punishment would have been heavier if it had been shown that the drug were dangerous to life if administered in sufficient quantity.

Armed Robbers Get $3,000 Loot In Raid

Between $3,000 and $4,000 in money and jewelry constituted the haul of four armed robbers who ransacked a Chinese dwelling at 760 Peking Road Sunday evening.

The men were armed with revolvers and obtained admission to the house by calling the cook to the rear door. There were only women and the cook in the place and the raiders made a thorough overhaul which took half an hour after intimidating the inmates. Aside from a general description of the robbers the only clew the police have to work on is an old-fashioned pinfire pistol cartridge which was evidently dropped by one of the men.

Wedding

KOMAROFF-NAFTALY

Following a civil marriage that took place at the American Consulate last Thursday Miss Elisabeth Komaroff, daughter of Mrs. L. Komaroff, was married yesterday afternoon to Mr. Harry Robert Naftaly in accordance with Jewish rites before a large gathering at the Masonic Temple, No. 30 The Bund.

The bridegroom is a kinsman of Mr. H. N. Naftaly Sr., who is agent of the firm of Messrs. Arkell and Douglas here. Conforming with the Jewish ritual the bridegroom and bride were sponsored by two married couples, the bridegroom being escorted to a raised dias to a position under the white silken canopy by Messrs. D. G. M. Aranovsky and Philip Naftaly. The bride entered to strains of the wedding march accompanied by Mesdames Aranovsky and Naftaly with the bridesmaids the Misses Freda Horne and Rebecca Bierbayer. The matron of honor was Mrs. R. Komaroff. Little Miss Eva Inlier served as trainbearer.

The marriage ceremony was chanted by Rabbi M. Zilverberg, who passed the nuptial cup of wine to the principals after which it was shattered. The canopy bearers on the dias were the Messrs. R. and A. Komaroff, A. Silas and H. Sherrick.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served after the bride had cut the wedding cake and dancing proceeded while those present extended well wishes to the happy couple. The couple are leaving for a visit to the outports and intend to sail for America on the steamer Nanking of the China Mail on November 4.

The bride was educated at the French Convent, Shanghai and has a host of friends, the bridegroom during his short stay here made himself very popular. The bride was dressed in a charming dress of white charmeuse trimmed and embroidered with white woollen silver, in the French art. The Court train was likewise embroidered with silver lace.

The bride's bouquet was of white carnations with ribbons of roses showered over. Mrs. L. Komaroff was dressed in grey silks embroidered with gold and carried bouquet of roses. Bridesmaids were gowned in pink silk of becoming style and the bouquets were of white roses. Numerous telegrams of congratulations were received.

SUMMER AND THE BABY.

Hot Weather Perils And How To Avert Them

The summer months are the most dangerous to infants and young children. Cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly during the hot season that often the little one is beyond aid almost before the parents realise he is ill. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy. Read what Mrs. W. S. Bassam, of Kingston, Ontario, says about them.

"I began using Baby's Own Tablets when my little girl was about three months old," Mrs. Bassam writes. "At that time the child had indigestion badly. She was vomiting and had diarrhoea constantly. Food did her no good and she was very thin.

"I did not find any medicine to help until we tried Baby's Own Tablets; then the vomiting and diarrhoea ceased and she began to improve almost at once. Since then whenever her stomach is out of order we give her the Tablets and the result is always all that we desire. They are the very best medicine I have ever used for a child."

Baby's Own Tablets can be had of druggists, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

American Companies In China

READERS of last Sunday's CHINA PRESS will have noted with pleasure the progress that is being made towards passage of the Federal Incorporation Act for American companies in China, drawn up under the the auspices of the Shanghai American Chamber of Congress and the American Association. A strongly organised campaign in behalf of the measure is to be made at the session of Congress which is to be convened in December. This campaign is to be led by Mr. H. H. Arnhold and Mr. Carl Seitz, supported both locally and by the Pacific Coast chambers of commerce. Ground work for the bill was laid last Spring by Mr. A. R. Hagar and the delegation of 17 business men from China who attended the sessions of the Foreign Trade Convention in San Francisco.

Under present conditions American companies operating in China are forced to do so at a marked disadvantage and this adverse condition will continue until the proposed bill shall be enacted into law. And despite the latent asset of the undoubted good will of the Chinese towards America, proper expansion of our trade with China cannot be made so long as our companies are heavily taxed at home while those of other nations are freed of this burden.

The position is this that every company, whether, for example, British, Japanese, or American, that is operating in China does so under the laws of its own country. Thus, an American company, incorporated under the laws of California, doing business in China, is subject to American laws and is under the jurisdiction of the United States Court for China. Our laws were not made to meet trade conditions existing in China and if American companies are to meet the strenuous competition of the next few years in securing China trade, congress must enact legislation that will place them on the same basis as their competitors.

Great Britain has had long and successful experience in trade with the Orient. British laws for the control of British corporations operating in China help and encourage their companies in every way possible. These British companies, organised under the Hongkong Ordinances, are free from National taxation. They do not pay Income Tax, Excess Profits Tax, or War Taxes of any kind. But they more than make up for this to Great Britain by the large share of commerce which they contribute to the British balance of trade.

Until recently as we know out here it had been possible for a company of any nationality to incorporate under the Hongkong Ordinances as a British China Company. A number of companies managed by Americans and employing American capital took advantage of this opportunity and incorporated under the Hongkong—Ordinances. This was not because of lack of patriotism. They would have preferred to incorporate under American law, but were forced to this action in order to live in competition with other companies in China. Recently the British authorities made a ruling that all such companies must have a majority of British directors. Still more recent "Orders in Council" made it obligatory that the actual management of every company incorporated under the Hongkong Ordinances should be British. That meant that any such company, although employing 100 percent of American capital and managed entirely by Americans, must replace its American managers by those of British nationality.

The argument of the British authorities was that this action was necessary, under existing extra-territorial conditions in China, in order that the British Government might control the companies incorporated under the Hongkong Ordinances. Only a British subject is amenable to British law in China.

The bill now before Congress provides for the Federal incorporation of American companies for business in China unhampered by Federal taxes. What our merchants ask and need is an equal opportunity with companies of other nationality engaged in the China trade. For conditions in China, owing to extraterritoriality, are different from those existing anywhere else. Every company operating here does so under the laws of its own country, and what is asked is merely that congress provide Americans with legislation equal to that provided by other nations in support of their China trade.

Conditions are such that prompt action is necessary. We believe that there is no trade question now confronting Congress more urgent than that of prompt action on this bill.

Correspondence

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir.—In answer to a letter published in one of the local papers, I enclose you here a letter, which I hope you will be good enough to insert in your next issue. Thanking you in anticipation. I am, Yours truly,

Chinese Foreign Famine Relief Committee,
S. Y. Yeh.

Shanghai, October 25, 1920.

(ENCLOSURE)

In answering the criticism or rather recommendations put forward in a letter from Pro Bono I wish to state that this committee is very grateful for the suggestions, and is glad to assure him that they have been our policy all along.

If Pro Bono would look into any of the papers, he will from week to week find a detailed list of the subscriptions. The publication of this is in consequence of a resolution passed at our second meeting held on October 4, 1920, and it has been carried out regularly ever since.

It is a matter of regret that we have not applied the same procedure to the money paid out. But any anxiety entertained on this score can easily be dispelled since any payment over a thousand dollars can only be made with the sanction of the meeting, and on the written authorisation of the Chairman. The cheque for such payment, in order to be valid, must bear the signature of one Chinese and one foreign treasurer. Moreover, our books are always open to the inspection of any body interested.

If any charge can be made at all against such an elaborate system, it will be its "rigidity," which, indeed, is the opinion of our Distribution Department. It has been found to cause many delays in remitting the various grants. However, since this provides the best guarantee against possible misappropriations, convenience has to be sacrificed.

With regard to the suggestion of placing distribution under the supervision of foreigners and Chinese, I am glad to say that all our grants, with only one or two exceptions of small sums, are made to bodies formed by foreign Missionaries and local gentries, Thus $100,000 has been sent to the Honan Famine Relief Committee and it has the following members:

Presidents
Military Governor Chao Ti.
Civil Governor Chang Feng-tai.
Treasurers
G. E. Simmons, (Missionary).
Tuan Pei-chu.
Secretaries
H. M. Harris.
Ma Ho-keng.

The Shantung Committee has for its treasurer Mr. Troxel, a member of the National Holiness Mission. In Tientsin we have Mr. Sun as our representative to whom $100,000 has been sent. His antagonism against official-dom, as shown in the criticisms in the newspaper, Social Welfare, of which he is the owner, is so much disapproved by the Anfu Government that warrant for his arrest was issued, and his reputation among the missionaries and Foreign friends speaks for itself. In short, it has been the policy of this Committee, in making grants, to place them only in the hands of those already existing organisations, whose integrities are known personally to at least some of the members of this Committee, and who are already organised and dispensing relief in the affected districts.

In connection with this topic I wish to point out that, with the question of entrusting relief to the Missionaries, we are faced with immense difficulties.

Should we show too much favor to the Missionaries, we may incur opposition from the non Christian contributors. (Many are known to be holding back large sums, and others sending them to other organisations). The introduction of religion into our present field will be the last thing we desire to see, and consequently we cannot be over cautious about it.

As to his third suggestion of placing the administration of famine relief under martial law, and in the charge of military men like Wu Pei-fu and Feng Yu-hsiang, I am of opinion that it will be more appropriately applied to the newly created Government relief department, which is now under the Minister of the Interior. However, it is of considerable importance, as it involves the deeper question of the necessity of a centralised scheme. In view of the existence of so many relief societies in Shanghai alone, one can easily see that, without some sort of a central board, it can only lead to confusion.

I am glad to say that this has been under the Committee's consideration, and it is with the hope of divising means for such an end that a telegram was sent to Mr. Gray in Peking for advice. The reply is now to hand, and will be discussed at our next meeting, which will no doubt result in some satisfactory arrangement. It is necessary however to remember that the strong distrust for the Peking officials will render unacceptable any scheme to hand over the funds to the Government, against which even men like Wu and Feng seem to be powerless, as shown by recent events.

In conclusion I want to reassure both Pro Bono and other interested readers that we are very grateful for the friendly advice given in the letter. This is the thing we like to see and will always appreciate. In undertakings of this nature, it is impossible to take every view into consideration but it is the earnest desire of this committee that the public should not hesitate to bring forward anything which in their opinion requires improvement, and we are always open to suggestions. I am, dear Sir, yours truly,

S. Y. YEH,
Hon. Secretary.

Marshal Petain Weds

Paris, September 15.—Yesterday morning a two-line paragraph sent through a news agency announced that the marriage of Marshal Petain, the victor of Verdun, to Madame Hardon would shortly take place in the strictest privacy. While Paris was reading the news Marshal Petain was getting married. There were only two witnesses, General Fayolle, Petain's companion in arms, and Madame Gabriel Ferrier, mother of the bride, who is the widow of the famous portrait painter. The ceremony was a civil one, the bride and bridegroom making the responses before the Mayor of the Seventh Arrondissment. There were no guests, no reporters and no photographers.

Today all Paris is discussing the bride. It appears that the Marshal has been an intimate friend of her family for some years and admired her as a girl. Circumstances have now made their marriage possible at an age when she still retains her beauty. The Marshal himself, whose family were farmers in the north of France, is at the ripe age for marriage of 64.

For the honeymoon the couple left last night for the little property near Nice which the Marshal recently bought. Even at the station when they left last evening photographers were unable to pursuade the bride and bridegroom to pose for their photographs. At Villeneuve, where their home is, they could not escape, however, and triumphal arches were erected for them.

Petain, who in the war was one of the most far-sighted of all the French Generals, has given one more proof of this quality with regard to his marriage. In the Paris directory for this year, which was published some months ago, entry appears: "Petain ... Marshal of Impending Typhus Fever Epidemic In China.

Typhus Follows Famine

BY W. W. PETER, M. D.
Secretary, Council On Health Education Shanghai, China
(Correspondent for China, League of Red Cross Societies)

We may expect an epidemic of typhus fever in China within the next six months. It will most likely make its appearance first in the most severely stricken parts of the famine areas in north China, from which it will spread to other parts even reaching beyond the famine districts. "The history of typhus fever," says Dr. Hirsch, "is the history of human wretchedness." In China it is often called "famine-fever."

WHAT IS TYPHUS

Typhus fever is an acute, specific fever of unknown cause spread by the agency of the body louse (pediculus humanus). It is characterised by a sudden onset some six to twelve days after being bitten by an infected louse, rash and high fever. The course of the disease is from fourteen to eighteen days. In 1915 during the severe typhus epidemic in Servia the mortality varied at different periods in different localities between 30 and 60 percent. Over 150,000 deaths occurred within the six months before the epidemic could be suppressed. Of the 350 doctors in the country prior to the outbreak only 224 survived, the rest died of this disease, a mortality of 36 percent. One-tenth of the Servian population died of it.

LICE AND TYPHUS

Typhus fever prevails in epidemic form only in overcrowded, filthy, unhygienic surroundings. It is under ideal conditions for securing food and multiplying that the louse finds itself when man is afflicted by poverty and famine, for the personal cleanliness and clean clothing are unobtainable. The louse cannot live apart from some warm-blooded animal. Certain kinds prefer man on whom as a parasite they spend their entire lives. Through a short beak which has a stylet they pierce the skin of their unsuspecting host and suck blood. It is this habit which makes, them dangerous for the blood of the host may contain certain substances which they can transmit when necessity compels them to change hosts. The new host may be a well person until he is thus bitten by an infected louse.

The eggs of the louse are called nits when attached to the body hairs of the host. These eggs may also be deposited in the clothing, particularly along the seams. Hatching takes place in from ten to fifteen days, the young louse coming out of the top of the elongated egg. Before reaching maturity these young molt their skin three or four times. Males are less numerous than females and smaller in size. The body louse has about 5,000 offspring in the course of two months and there are several generations each year. The louse walks sideways like a crab but usually does not travel far. It may be carried from one point to another by the host or in used clothing. Once the louse bites a patient sick with typhus and sucks up his blood, a period of eight or nine days must elapse before it becomes infective. During this time, however, it may have been carried to some district entirely free from typhus. Like other communicable diseases, typhus spreads along the lines of travel.

PREVENTION

After the great war an officer received his discharge and immediately sent the following telegram to his family: "Demobilised, deloused, delighted." The whole matter of prevention may be summed up in the one word, delousing.

Delousing, disinfestation and disinfection have to do with persons, bedding, clothes, buildings and the like. In the famine stricken areas in north China, or anywhere in China outside the port cities, to apply these processes to large numbers of people and the places where they live presents a staggering problem. Certainly very little effective preventive work will be done if the matter is left to the initiative of the people themselves.

As a matter of fact, in most epidemics until recent times hopelessness seized the people, especially the leaders, and very little was done to stem the epidemic. Perhaps the most noteworthy effort to fight typhus in the light of modern medical knowledge was the anti-typhus campaign in 1915 in Servia. This is reported at length in the first issue of the new International Journal of Public Health published by the League of Red Cross Societies, Geneva, Switzerland. The author of the article is Richard P. Strong, General Medical Director of League, who had charge of the campaign against typhus in Servia. Some of the difficulties they encountered and overcame may be of interest to us in China.

EXPERIENCE OF DR. STRONG

After the great plague epidemic in Manchuria in 1910, an International Congress was held to many countries were sent. Among those who attended representing the United States, was Dr. Richard P. Strong, Professor of Tropical Medicine, Harvard University Medical School. Five years later he was placed at the head of the anti-typhus campaign in Servia.

In an article by that title in the July, 1920 issue of the International Journal of Public Health, Dr. Strong relates some of his experiences which will be of interest to those in China who anticipate an epidemic of typhus in the famine districts this coming winter. There are many points of similarity between Servia and China so far as fighting typhus is concerned.

"When I was first asked to go to Servia, to take charge of work in connection with the eradication of typhus" writes Dr. Strong "I was strongly advised on two occasions by prominent members of the medical profession against undertaking the work. It was argued that in order to exterminate typhus from Servia it was necessary to uplift the whole race of Servian people and to change their entire habits and methods of living and that this would take years to accomplish. At a recent important conference of international sanitarians I heard another physician express a somewhat similar opinion, namely, that before the typhus epidemic in Poland could be put down, it would be necessary to elevate the entire moral tone of the people and their mode of living.

"I am not in agreement with this idea. I however do believe that such conditions must probably be brought about in a country where typhus has long been endemic if one is to rid it entirely of all its endemic foci of this disease, but experience in Servia has demonstrated that pan epidemic of typhus may be arrested long before an appreciable advance, however desirable it may be, has been made in uplifting the people and changing their entire habits and mode of living.

"The presence of typhus fever in times of famine, squalor, etc., is obviously particularly due to the fact that among people who are more or less starved, widespread neglect of personal cleanliness occurs and increased prevalence of lousiness results. The feeding of such individuals and the improvement of their nourishment, however, does not necessarily change permanently their entire habits and mode of life. The epidemic of typhus in Servia was not accompanied by general staryation or famine and it was entirely eradicated after six months intensive work, but I believe that the habits of the people will show very little permanent change as a result of the measures undertaken. The majority of the people, I think, will not delouse themselves and bathe very much more frequently than they did formerly unless typhus should again visit them in epidemic form, and they will then undertake these inconvenient and perhaps to many of them disagreeable measures again, not because they are uplifted and their habits of life permanently changed, but because they have been enlightened as to how to avoid the infection and prevent another epidemic.

SERVIAN METHODS

"The first, most immediate and important problem of typhus control was that of central organisation and authority. An International Sanitary Commission was organised consisting of the Prince Regent Alexander, Honorary Chairman; Sir Ralph Paget, Commissioner of British Relief Units in Servia, Vice-President; Lieut. Petronovitch of Servia as Secretary; Dr. R. P. Strong, Medical Director; and five other members including one each from France and Russia. The Commission had the backing of the American Red Cross and the Rockefeller Foundation as well as support from several European countries. The Servian Government vested supreme authority in sanitary matters in them and a nationwide program of prevention was undertaken.

"This general plan of typhus prevention included the following fourteen items:

1. A system of Sanitary inspection to secure accurate information as to sanitary conditions and the needs of the different districts in various parts of the country.
2. General disinfestation of people in badly infected districts.
3. General house-to-house inspection in such districts with removal of patients to hospital for typhus cases.
4. Disinfestation of other inmates of such houses.
5. Disinfestation or disinfection of houses from which patients were taken or in which deaths from typhus had occurred.
6. The establishment of quarantine and bathing and disinfecting stations at important points throughout the country.
7. The limitation of railway travel by reducing the number of passenger trains.
8. The establishment of a system of limited travel permits

LICE DISINFESTORS

What can we do in China to disinfest clothing, bedding, etc.? There are few hospitals which have adequate equipment to do this most important work. Dr. Strong found conditions in Servia very much the same as we have them in China. It was necessary for the International Sanitary Commission and the local Servian doctors and officials to devise simple equipment at small cost on the spot without the loss of time.

"The most crude and primitive type of disinfester employed by the Servian people," continues Dr. Strong, "was made by digging holes upon sloping ground for ovens and lining them with bricks and stones. In these ovens fires were lighted and the opening closed by a wooden cover, or by a metal one if metal was available. After a short time the fire was scraped out and the clothing to be disinfested placed in the oven on a grating and the opening again closed with the cover. The Servains became very expert in judging the degree of heat requisite to kill the lice and their ova and yet not sufficient to injure the clothing by burning, by placing a piece of white paper in the oven and removing the clothes when the paper showed the first tinge of turning yellow from the heat. Doubtless some of my readers will smile at this crude method of disinfestation, but a very important principle in connection with suppression of the epidemic was involved by such a practice. It demonstrated that individuals who would really undertake to carry out disinfestation in this patient manner above described, and under such obvious difficulties, were interested in protecting themselves from the disease and thus in putting down the epidemic.

"Large brick or concrete ovens with double walls of a single brick in thickness between which hot air circulated were constructed and used extensively in many of the smaller villages. In these the infected clothing was loosely placed or hung upon frames. These disinfestors, while they were obviously not entirely satisfactory, nevertheless usually accomplished in a crude way the desired purpose.

"Another type of disinfestor was termed the "Servian Barrel." The top and bottom of a barrel were knocked out and grated wooden bottom and a flat wooden lid provided. A short trench was dug in the ground which would accommodate a shallow circular metal tank or boiler with sufficient space for a fire beneath. The metal boiler was placed on two iron bars resting upon the sides of the trench, and it was constructed of the same diameter as the bottom of the barrel which rested upon it. To complete the fireplace in which wood or coal was used, a chimney was sometimes placed at the further end of the trench. After the fire was lighted the clothes were placed in the barrel and the cover held down by a few stones during the process of disinfestation."

LICE-PROOF UNIFORMS

In previous epidemics of typhus in China many lives were lost among those who came in close contact with typhus patients. In Servia "every precaution was taken to protect the men working in infected places from contracting infection by insisting upon the use of a proper uniform.

"A uniform which was found suitable for nurse and sanitary and medical officers consisted of a one-piece garment, the stockings and trousers combined, to be worn preferably under the outer-clothing. There should be, in addition, high boots and shoes, the shoes so constructed as to prevent the entrance of lice where they are laced. A wide strip of adhesive plaster should be lightly placed around the leg over the top of the shoe or boot to close the opening. Rubber gloves should be worn when handling infested individuals or clothing, and there should be another strip of adhesive plaster around the top of each rubber glove to prevent the ingress of lice. It is advisable, for women at least, to wear a closely fitting head dress. The uniform in general should obviously serve to close as completely as possible all openings of the garments and thus prevent access of lice to the skin. Those who come into very close contact with the patient, and particularly those who examine the throats of patients, until we know more about the methods of transmission of the disease, should wear a simple mask of gauze over the mouth and nostrils, the end being tied around the neck. When traveling it is always desirable to have with one a folding rubber bath-tub and a small supply of naphthalene.

PETROLEUM KILLS LICE

"Spraying with petroleum from a fine spray was rather generally employed after bathing. No injurious effects were observed, and it did not seem to cause much inflammation of the skin in the Servian people. Petroleum kills lice in two or three minutes although a longer time is required to kill the nits (ova).

"Sulphur is, on the whole, the safest and most satisfactory disinfestant for general employment at our disposal. If employed thoroughly and in the proper manner the adult lice are destroyed.

"If the room is large and not tightly sealed and rendered approximately air-tight, the amount of sulphur dioxide gas generated must of course be increased and the period of exposure prolonged. In Servia, for general disinfestation by sulphur fumigation, not less than 5 to 8 pounds of sulphur were employed per 1,000 cubic feet, the room of the ward being carefully sealed up for a period of not less than twelve to twenty-four hours, the time varying according to the nature of the space to be disinfested.

"Crude naphthalene was employed in finely powdered form for individual prophylaxis. It was found convenient to carry the naphthalene about with one in a battle, and it was often dusted over the underclothing, particularly after inspection of prison camps and other groups of lousy men; also over the sheets and pillows in hotels at night."

WHEN WILL TYPHUS APPEAR

By many observers in China, typhus fever is regarded as a cold weather disease. There is no set time, however, when this disease is due to appear.

"Hirsch writes that out of 147 epidemics which occurred in the temperate and cold latitudes of the eastern and western hemispheres, and of which we have accurate data as to the time of their outbreak and their course, 30 reached their acme in spring, 28 in winter and spring, 21 in spring and summer, 19 in summer and autumn, 18 in autumn, 17 in summer, and 14 in autumn and winter. He concludes that even if there can be no doubt that the maximum of typhus cases falls distinctly in the colder months (winter and spring) yet it is proved that typhus is quite independent of season and weather in its development and epidemic diffusion; that neither the upper nor lower extremities of temperature or moisture can further or hinder the disease in its breaking out and progress, nor any other condition of weather exert a preceptible influence in these respects. It is in this sense that almost all the authorities express themselves.

"Osler has remarked that the gradual disappearance of the disease in Great Britain and on the continent has been one of the great triumphs of sanitation and this also proved to be the case in connection with the epidemic in Servia. It will be recalled that this epidemic of typhus fever was the first extensive and serious one to occur since the demonstration of the method of the transmission of this disease by lice in 1909-1910. It should be emphasised that the efforts of all of the physicians, sanitarians, nurses and particularly of the people generally in Servia being directed against the spread of the disease by lice, the suppression of the epidemic by intensive work was accomplished within a period of six months."

WHAT WILL CHINA DO?

At the time of the outbreak of typhus in Servia, Dr. Nikolitch was Commissioner of Health. In addition to this provision for what may be termed a National Ministry of Health, there was also a strong Military Sanitary Department with Colonel Karanovitch at the head. In comparison with China, relatively speaking, Servia was in a better position to cope with an epidemic of this kind than China is at the present time. Nevertheless, the situation developed so rapidly and became so serious that existing health machinery in Servia broke down and an appeal had to be sent to the Allies for help. The International Sanitary Commission was the outcome. And within six months after this Commission was organised with full power the epidemic was suppressed.

In previous typhus epidemic in China, there was no central organisation such as had to be developed in Servia. Many Chinese physicians and missionary doctors rendered splendid service as individuals and some of them paid the price with their lives. We may anticipate a similar willingness on the part of these men and women to serve should typhus break out in China within the next few months. But what is needed is large co-operation on the part of the central and provincial governments. It is in this direction that strategy lies.

Chinese officials are becoming more and more ready to follow the experience of western countries in times of epidemics. This was shown in 1918 in connection with the outbreak of plague. The formation of the North Manchurian Plague Prevention Service in 1911 was a step in the right direction. But it is a fact that there is not in China at the present time any health machinery to cope with typhus should it appear in as extensive a form as happened in Servia.

The famine in North China has not yet reached its point of highest severity and yet far-sighted Chinese and foreigners are already making plans and raising money to give the relief which will be so much needed before another six months pass. It would not be amiss if these same public spirited leaders and Chinese officials were to consider at this early stage of the problem what steps should be taken to deal not only with the famine itself, but with the aftermath of disease which always follows in the wake of such a calamity. Tentative inquiry might well be made at this time whether the League of Red Cross Societies and various national Red Cross Societies would be in a position to help supply the leadership and funds necessary. In the light of the brilliant achievements in Servia from co-operation between the afflicted people and friendly nations, it would seem a pity not to have the same thing take place in China. The problem of the health of China is one that concerns not only this country, but the rest of the world as well.

of the

Celebrated Emile Zola novel "WORK"

"JUSTICE"

Featuring

Huguette DUFLOS de la Comedie Francaise

MATHOT

Raphael DUFLOS de la Comedie Francaise

In a sublime vision, the great novelist foresaw the reorganisation of work based on the truth, that the happiness of all will bring to pass the happiness of each work abiding by itself, a reason to be social.

See, the situations in the world are getting worse and worse. But Humanity is Walking Toward Truth, Justice, Peace and Happiness.

Don't Miss Steing this So-Different Chapter.

A BRIGHT BIT OF DRAMA — From Oliver Morosco's stage success

It is difficult to imagine MAE MARSH more excellently cast than in her role in "THE CINDERELLA MAN." THIS PART OF A DAINTY, SWEET GIRL, ROMANTIC BUT GENUINELY HUMAN, gives Miss MARSH a wonderful opportunity to display her aptitude for changing moods. SHE IS A GIRL OF THOUSAND FACES.

Usual Prices — Booking at Robinson's
